'WAR MIGHT NOT BE BAD FOR U. S.'

ATTACKS GUARD OF GOVERNOR

Patrick McGrath, Escaped from Worcester Asylum, Creates Sensation by Fight at Capitol

Edward Horrigan, a member of the State police assigned to State House duty, indulged in a thrilling struggle with Patrick McGrath, an escaped lunatic, in the lounging room outside the Governor's office shortly before 11 o'clock today.

McGrath, who had attempted to force his way into the Governor's office, was eventually subdued by Horrigan and State Officer William Thompson, who had been trailing him.

Governor McCall had not arrived at the State House, but the lounging room contained a number of people waiting to see him, who were much excited by the struggle.

McGrath told John H. Flunkett, chief of the State police, that he formerly live in Charlestown, and escaped from the Worcester State Hospital yesterday.

The man appeared in the lounging room outside the executive offices about 10:45 today. According to the police, he showed evidences of having been drinking.

Horrigan, who was on guard, stopped him and asked his business.

The man said:

"I want to see Governor McCall."

"The Governor has not arrived," said Horrigan.

"Then I want to see the Lieutenant-Governor," said McGrath.

"You can't see the Lieutenant-Governor in your condition," said Horrigan.

"You have been drinking."

"I am going to see the Governor," McGrath asserted, and rushed at Horrigan, inflicting a blow on the latter's jaw as he did so.

The guard grappled with him, and for several minutes the men struggled about the room, punching each other, and each attempting to get the upper hand.

The persons in the lounging room shrank into corners, terrified by the desperate combat. At length Horrigan managed to throw the other and at this point Officer Thompson arrived and took a hand. He had been shadowing McGrath because of reports that the man acted suspiciously when he entered the State House.

Horrigan and Thompson subdued McGrath and took him to Chief Flunkett's office. Here he said that some years ago, while driving a team in Charlestown, he had been arrested by police officers and railroaded to the Boston Psychopathic Hospital. He said he was later transferred to Worcester, escaping yesterday.

McGrath declared that he was illegally confined and that he wished to see the Governor in order to obtain his release.

He was taken to the Joy street police station and later sent back to Worcester.

Governor McCall arrived at his office ten minutes after the struggling man had been taken to the office of Chief Flunkett. McGrath made no threats against the executive's life, but had he obtained admission to the Governor, it is thought that he might have made trouble.

FIND CLEW IN ROPER MURDER

Bloody Finger Print Is Discovered in Greenhouse Where Tewksbury Florist Was Killed and Robbed

Lowell police and court authorities investigating today the murder of Albert Roper, the rich florist and member of the Boston Flower Exchange on Winthrop square, who was slain with a piece of lead pipe and robbed in his own greenhouse in Tewksbury, found a bloody print of a finger or thumb on one of the greenhouse boards near where the body was discovered.

The board was one of two horizontal braces fastened to uprights supporting one of the long flower beds in the greenhouse. That section of the board bearing the bloody print was sawed out and taken away by the police.

Mark Roper, one of the victim's five sons, who was showing the officers through the greenhouse, said when the blood stain was discovered by Police Superintendent Redmond Welch of Lowell:

"That wouldn't indicate anything because I got my own hands bloody when I came out here after my

TWO KILLED AS BIG SLIDE HITS TRAIN

Gunnison, Col., March 2.—C. H. Mathews, an express messenger of Denver, and Earl Levy, captain of the Pueblo High School basketball team, were killed and several others were injured when a rock and snow slide struck a Rio Grande passenger train in Black Canyon late yesterday. Details of the accident were not received until today. The wrecker and relief trains are reported to have been struck by a second slide, but this has not been verified.

DRINKS FURNITURE POLISH BY MISTAKE

John Pierce, sixty, of No. 320 Beale street, Wollaston, is at the City Hospital because he unaccountably mistook furniture polish for sherry. Pierce was helping his family and became fatigued. He picked up a bottle marked sherry and took a large swallow.

"AMERICANS FIRST," DECLARES MUELLER

Washington, March 2.—Paul F. Mueller, editor of the Chicago Abendpost and recently elected head of an organization of 400 German-American publishers in this country, today assured President Wilson that the German-Americans of the nation are Americans first.

Report German Raider Captured

New York, March 2.—A report reached here today from Buenos Ayres that a British cruiser had captured the German raider Moewe and had taken the raider into Trinidad.

The report was received in Buenos Ayres from a steamship which had intercepted a wireless message which, it was said, announced the capture of the Moewe.

The Moewe is the converted steamship which captured the British liner Appam, now at Newport News, and captured or sank a score of merchantmen of the allies, and whose whereabouts in the Atlantic have been a mystery. The report of its capture is unconfirmed.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS.

Rome, March 2.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria on his journey between Vienna and Sofia, according to reports received here today. Ferdinand's alleged "indisposition," it is said, is in reality due to wounds inflicted upon him by a would-be assassin.

London, March 2.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam says that Berlin reports confirm Germany's intention to declare war on Portugal unless a satisfactory reply is received to the ultimatum demanding the release of German merchant ships seized in Portuguese ports.

Salonica, March 2.—Three army corps, 120,000 men, have been concentrated by the Rumanian general staff in Western Rumania along the Danube river, with headquarters at Calafatu, opposite the Bulgarian fortress of Vidin, according to reports reaching Anglo-French headquarters today.

Athens, March 2.—An Austrian naval squadron appeared off the Island of Corfu on Wednesday, but fled back towards Cattaro when it sighted a fleet of allied warships.

Holbrook Town House Burned; 4 Men Overcome

Holbrook, March 2.—Chief George A. Nason, Captain Melvin Gould and Firemen Roy Chandler and Everett Hobart were overcome by smoke early today at a fire which destroyed the Town House, with a loss estimated by the police at $25,000.

Aid was summoned from South Braintree, Weymouth and Randolph, but the fire-fighting apparatus of Randolph was the only one to reach the scene, the others being stalled by the snow.

The two-and-a-half-story brick structure, which was presented to the town in 1877 by Everett N. Holbrook, was soon destroyed. The blaze started from defective wiring.

Town Clerk Zenas A. French saved all records which were not locked in a fire-proof vault.

The building contained the town offices, the public library of 20,000 volumes and a co-operative bank.

Uphold Award to Man Who Ate Tainted Chops

Although Mrs. Percy A. Gearing purchased tainted pork chops from a Columbus avenue market, the sale was in reality made to her husband, the woman merely acting as his agent, according to a decision of the Supreme Court today.

This decision upheld a decision of the Appellate Division of the Municipal Court awarding Mr. Gearing $175 for illness contracted by eating the meat. It also gave him $10 for medical attendance for his wife, but reversed the lower court decision giving the woman $60.

Gearing sued John Berkson of Columbus avenue and others. His wife bought pork chops at their market, and both were made ill after eating them.

BRITAIN WOULD BAN WEDDING OF UNFIT

London, March 2.—The royal commission appointed to inquire into social diseases in Great Britain made a report today recommending that any person suffering from such an ailment be prohibited from getting married.

NEW DRIVE ON VERDUN LAUNCHED

Report French Have Lost Fort Vaux; Opening Attacks by the Germans Repulsed, Paris Says

London, March 2.—German troops late yesterday afternoon renewed their terrific assault in the Woevre region on the front to the east of Verdun. The assaults were launched following a violent bombardment of the French lines by the German artillery.

Fort Vaux, chief defence of Verdun from the northeast, has been abandoned by the French, according to an unconfirmed report from German sources via Amsterdam. The report stated that the fort had been battered to pieces by the concentrated fire of the great howitzers of the Germans.

The centre of the attack was at Fresnes, but the communique issued by the French War Office this afternoon states that the French troops repulsed the assault on Fresnes, which is several miles southeast of Verdun, and also recaptured in a counter-attack some trench sections which the Germans had penetrated in the first drive.

The text of the French communique follows:

"In the Artois district, east of the road from Neuville to Le Poile, we exploded a mine beneath an old crater which the enemy had occupied. We captured the new crater.

"In the region of Verdun the enemy

RETKOVITZ TAKEN TO DEATH HOUSE

Anton Retkovitz, sentenced to die in the week of March 12 for the murder of Douka Perenvida at Fall River, March 14, 1914, was brought to the death house at Charlestown today. He came to the South Station by train, handcuffed between Sheriff Edwin H. Evans of Taunton and Isaac E. Willette, keeper of the Taunton jail. Still handcuffed, he was taken to the prison in a limousine, and there formally delivered to the custody of Warden N. D. Allen. After being assigned to Cell No. One, he was booked by Prison Clerk E. A. Darling.

FEAR LOSS OF NEW BEDFORD SCHOONER

Washington, March 2.—The 400-ton schooner Horatio of New Bedford, Mass., is believed to be lost off Cashes ledge, Mass. Coast guard headquarters here today received a wireless message from the cutter Onsipee, from which the schooner, which was being towed, broke away in a storm. After the storm no trace could be found of the vessel.

'Wilson Uses Germany as His Catspaw'

By Augustus F. Beach,

Special Correspondent of the International News Service.

Berlin (via Sayville), March 2.

AT the beginning of the new German submarine campaign the German government stands firm by the original orders regarding merchant ships.

No new proposals have gone to Washington and none is likely to be sent.

President Wilson's implication that Germany will not keep her word is vehemently denied. Germany assured the American government it would not sink vessels carrying neutral passengers without warning, but went no further.

Whether merchant ships are armed for defense is regarded as a side issue. There is no longer a shadow of doubt in Germany that British merchant ships are armed and instructed to attack, and must be dealt with accordingly.

It cannot be denied that the situation is gravely serious, but the German people still refuse to believe the Americans with a diplomatic break, or wish, as President Wilson indicates, to prevent German sea forces from having a fair chance to fight the Entente on the water.

Never has the desire to remain at peace with America been stronger than it is today. The belief grows steadily that President Wilson is trying to use Germany as a catspaw in home politics.

FRENCH SHIP IS FOURTH VICTIM OF U-BOATS

London, March 2.—Dispatches from Lowestoft this afternoon announced the sinking of four fishing smacks, the Trebose, Tryon, Reliance and Harold, in the North Sea. They were sent to the bottom by a single submarine this morning. The crews of all these boats were later landed.

Later in the day it was reported that the Italian steamer Eliza, a vessel of 429 tons built in 1856 and hailing from Naples, had also been sunk.

Havre, France, advices today state that the French mine sweeper Au Revoir was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the English Channel.

In addition to the Thornaby and Malvina, the British ships whose loss was made known yesterday, the Russian ship Alexander Wentzel was also sunk on Wednesday.

HEATED DEBATE ON SUBMARINES

Washington, March 2.—Senator Gore electrified the Senate today by declaring that he had learned "from high authority" of a statement made by President Wilson that it might not be a bad thing for the United States to enter the war, as it would bring the struggle to a conclusion in the middle of the Summer.

"I do not know whether this is true," said Senator Gore. "I tell the tale as it came to me, but it came in such a way from such high authority and with such earmarks of truth that it hardly can be doubted."

The statement was made during an exciting debate on the submarine issue this afternoon.

According to Senator Gore's informant, the statement was made by the President at one of his conferences with members of Congress. President Wilson was quoted as saying:

"A state of war might not be a bad thing for this country, as it would bring the war to a conclusion in the middle of the Summer, and in that way the United States would be performing a great service to humanity.

"I wish, in all fairness, to state that the President never stated to me or in my hearing that he believed in any way that war between the United States and the central powers would be desirable or would result in good for the United States," said Senator Stone.

"I was informed that the President told the Senator from Missouri that the participation of the United States would bring the war to a close by the middle of the Summer. Is that right?

Senator Gore turned to Senator Stone, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, as he asked the question. Senator Stone responded immediately, saying that he had not attempted to quote what the President had told him, and that he did not propose to do so.

This debate occurred soon after Senator Stone had attempted to induce the Senate to act on the Gore resolution advising Americans not to travel on armed ships. This was the first open move in Congress following President Wilson's demand for a show-down on the submarine issue.

At the same time Chairman Flood

CONGRESS AT CRITICAL STAGE

of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs was trying to induce his colleagues to report to the lower branch the McLemore resolution on the same subject, which is a much more drastic measure.

STONE STARTS DISCUSSION.

Neither Stone nor Flood succeeded, although both declared that they believed that action could be obtained.

Stone did succeed in starting a discussion of the Gore resolution in the Senate when, in urging an agreement to bring the matter formally before that body tomorrow, he declared:

"I can't but believe that a belligerent ship heavily armed, no matter if for defensive purposes, carrying munitions of war, is simply a ship of war.

This brought Senator Lodge to his feet, taking direct issue with the Missouri Senator's position. He earnestly defended the position assumed by the President, going over the ground covered in his recent speech on the subject.

Senator Lodge insisted that to accept the position that merchant vessels cannot carry arms for defensive purposes would be to surrender absolute rights guaranteed the United States under existing international law.

"I agree with Senator Stone," said Senator Lodge, "that this is not a party question. I agree also that the first duty of Congress is to dispose of the precise questions referred to in the various so-called warning resolutions. That is more important than any unfinished business of the Senate."

Senator Williams of Mississippi followed Lodge with a strong defence of the President, denouncing those who have been continually nagging and embarrassing him in his diplomatic negotiations.

"The time has come," he said, "when the proposition presents itself to me in this way: Shall I exclaim 'America first,' or shall I sing 'Deutschland über Alles.'

PATIENCE EXHAUSTED.

"American patriotism and American idealism can be relied upon to push aside any public man who tries to make political capital of this situation.

"The patience of a very patient man has been exhausted," Senator Williams continued. "Now he says: 'We have given aid and comfort to these foreign nations; you have crippled me in my work with these foreign powers, you have put them into the position that the United States is not behind me. If I am hamstrung and tongue tied on land the least I can do is to help myself on the high seas.' You have nagged and nagged, let us have a show-down. I believe that with the American people it will be a showdown all right."

Senator Gore, author of the resolutions which warns Americans off armed ships, made short reply to the suggestion that his resolution was anti-American.

"Any American citizen who places the interest of Germany above the interest of America is a traitor," said Senator Gore. "There are some traitors of that type in the United States. Any American citizen who places the interests of the allies above the interests of America is equally a traitor. Traitors of this type are not unknown. The two types are equally offensive, equally disloyal and equally reprehensible.

SYMPATHY WASTED.

"I have no doubt that the American owners of ships flying the flags of the allies want the United States to police the ships in their passage across the Atlantic. I have no doubt that the purchasers of the $500,000,000 bond issues recently floated in this country by the allies would like to see the United States guard their investments. I have no more sympathy with this type than I have with the hyphenated."

The submarine situation was injected into the proceedings of the Senate despite a general agreement among the members to refrain from action. The Gore resolution was put before the Senate when Stone began his discussion of the entire submarine question.

DEMANDS TEST VOTE.

Chairman Flood took the matter up in his committee of the House after the following telephone message from the President:

I want a test vote on the McLemore resolution and believe that the country want to know which Congress stands on it.

Flood told the President that he believed the resolution, which specifically warns American citizens not to travel on armed merchant ships, can be reported by his committee. The committee would have voted 10 to 9 to report the resolution adversely to the House for action late Yesterday. Flood told the President, according to secretary Tumulty, had a vote been taken.

TEST VOTE TOMORROW.

The test vote that President Wilson insists upon comes tomorrow in the Senate.

Such was the announcement to Senator Stone during the debate this afternoon.

Another feature in the day's developments was the summons by President Wilson to Representative Adamson of Georgia, the Democratic House leader, to a conference at the White House at 5 o'clock this afternoon

Wilson to Wait "Reasonable Time."

By International News Service.

Washington, March 2. — President Wilson let it be known today that he would wait a reasonable time for Congress to act on one of the resolutions warning Americans not to take passage on armed merchant vessels before attempting to force the issue in the rules committees.

This was the situation following a telephone conference between the President and Chairman Flood of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and half hour's talk which the President had with Representative F. J. Garrett of Tennessee, third member of the rules committee and the most experienced parliamentarian in the House.

The House members made it very plain to the President that the majority of the representatives did not want to be "rushed off their feet" on the issue.

PRESIDENT DEMANDS A LINE-UP.

The issue now is squarely joined. The White House will be satisfied with nothing less than a line-up on the main issue. Resolutions carrying permissive endorsement or even a straight-out declaration that the handling of the international situation is admirable will not be accepted.

The President and Secretary Lansing have decided that they will not be tied in any further negotiations with Germany over the submarine issue until Congress has disposed of the warning suggestions which the administration flatly insists is seriously menacing American prestige at Berlin, Vienna and Constantinople. The congressmen to the contrary this and are prepared to act accordingly.

The hope at the White House was principally for delay. The House Foreign Affairs Committee postponed its proposed meeting from 10:30 to 2 o'clock, with a possibility of a further delay because Majority Leader Kitchin had asked that no action be taken until he could confer with Chairman Flood. It was certain that the chasm between the White House and the majority in the lower branch of Congress was so wide that none one would have to back down.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

The situation could hardly be more serious. A canvass of the membership of the House shows that at the present time the President cannot count on a majority of the membership. The hoped-for Republican support is absent. At a secret conference of the Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee today it was decided that the sentiment was opposed to any report of any resolution that would deal directly with the present situation.

MIGHT BREAK WITH GERMANY.

As far as the Republicans were willing to go would be to adopt a resolution which would simply reaffirm that the President had power to exhaust diplomatic methods before Congress could be called on to act. This would mean nothing, but would rather tend to confuse the issue.

The Democrats are so badly divided that the leaders admit they do not know what will happen.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Lansing added to the confusion by admitting at the conference today with the newspaper correspondents that the "submarine negotiations have substantially been suspended pending the outcome of the present situation in Congress."

MIGHT BREAK WITH GERMANY.

This led to a report which was very widely spread but which was impossible of official confirmation that the President had decided that in the event that Congress refused to back up his position he would announce that the negotiations with Germany and Austria over the Lusitania and the Ancona were unsatisfactory in view of the inauguration of the new submarine warfare and would give Ambassador von Bernstorff and Austrian Charge Zwiedinek their passports.

This latter report was passed from member to member in the excited conference of the day, although just where it originated it was impossible to learn and the White House and State Department were mute on the subject. It was, of course, realized that the President has the power to take such action should he so desire.

The plan of action of the President should Congress fail to support him, seriously concerned the Democratic leaders. It was of course admitted that he would refuse to accept resignation or to continue as Democratic leader in the nation if he could not secure the support he demanded. But some had the power to feared he might even go further than that although there was a wide division of opinion as to just what he could do.

SWEDEN HARD HIT BY SUBMARINE WAR

Copenhagen, March 2.—Swedish shipping to the amount of 50,000 tons has been destroyed by German submarines or mines, it is estimated here today by a newspaper. The ships lost were valued at 12,000,000. One hundred and twenty-eight Swedes have lost their lives.

KING OF BULGARIA IS ILL IN AUSTRIA

Amsterdam, via London, March 2.—A Vienna dispatch says that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who is visiting the Austrian capitol, is suffering from an attack of bronchitis and is confined to bed.

WAR SUMMARY

With the lull in the attacks north of Verdun, military experts of London and Paris today occupied themselves with "guessing." The questions they sought to answer were two: Why have the attacks ceased? and What is going to happen next?

To the first question these answers are suggested:

1—The attacks ceased because the Germans only planned to "straighten" their lines; or because the attacks in the beginning were but a gigantic feint.

2—The attacks ceased because the French by counter-attacks gained the upper hand.

3—The attacks ceased because warm wather, following heavy snows, made the roads impassable.

To the second question there are these suggested answers:

1—The attacks will be renewed.

2—The attacks were a feint, and anattack on the lines defending Calais will now begin.

3—The attacks were a feint, an an attack on the Rheims-Soissons line, nearest Paris, wi now begin.

The advantage of the initiative is definitely with the Germans. The French transportation machine has begun to pour reinforcements into Verdun, nd an attack elsewhere now will force a sudden reversal of ie current of these reinforcements. This is a considerable task. Joffre apparently delayed as long as possible throwag any more troops into Verdun, but the German drive wapushed home so vigorously he was forced to act. As soonas the French gained sufficient strength to halt the Germa drive the German attacks ceased. These French reinforcements have been drawn from other lines, notably from the Mois region, where the British lines have been extended by putting semi-trained troops in the front line trenches. A German attack against these men would seem to promise god chances of success; and the probabilities, therefore, favor ether a resumption of the Verdun drive or a new attack in the Artois, pointed at Amiens, and possibly at Calais.

The lull about Verdun continued today except for a German attack near Fresnes, whichwas repulsed.

Three vessels, none large, was the toll on the first day of Germany's new submarine campaign. There was loss of life in each case, and in no case wa warning given. Two ships were British, one Russian.

The Italians have made a small gain, and Rome now predicts an Austrian drive against Italy.

The Russians were active i both Poland and the Caucasus, but accomplished nothin material.

Germany, it is reported, hasent Portugal an ultimatum concerning the seized Teutonic vessels, and war with Portugal, as well as with Italy, is posible soon.

A German plane raided the English shores with no result of importance.

Berlin reports an interesting aerial achievement. Lieutenant Keuhl in an aeroplane, and with Lieutenant Faber as an observer, dropped bombs on a transport train, halting it, then attacked the convoy of solders with a machine gun "successfully." This is the first officially reported instance of such an encounter.

Fail to Retake Fort Douaumont

By International News Service.

Berlin, March 2.—Renewed efforts of the French to recapture Fort Douaumont, northeast of Verdun, from the Germans, have been unsuccessful, the German War Office announced today.

The main positions on the west front remain unchanged.

In the region of the Yser the British and Belgians have bombarded the German lines violently.

Following is the text of the official report issued today:

West front—The positions are unchanged. In the Ypar region (West Flanders) the enemy artillery was very active. On the eastern bank of the Meuse the French were unsuccessful in counter attacks, which they made against our troops in Fort Douaumont.

Eastern front—At the northern end of the line there were very lively combats with artillery at several places. There were successful enterprises carried out with German field guns against enemy detachments. Northwest of Mitau, a Russian aeroplane was shot down in a fight with one of our air machines and the occupants were made prisoners.

"The railway station at Molodetschno was successfully attacked by a squadron of our airmen.

"Balkan front—The situation is unchanged."

Expect New Drive East of Soissons

BY FRANK TEWSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, March 2.—Germany's next big drive against the allied front in France will take place between Rheims and Soissons, according to the belief of many English and French military experts.

The German lines are nearer Paris at that point than at any other place on the west front.

In view of the apparent weakening of the German offensive north of Verdun it is strongly believed that the Germans will make another violent thrust. In this connection the violent bombardment of the German positions east of Soissons by the French yesterday is considered in many quarters as an indication that the French general staff senses an imminent offensive in this region and is trying to hinder its preparations with big guns.

SAME MOVE AT VERDUN.

It is interesting to recall that a similar bombardment by French preceded the German offensive at Verdun.

It is known that the Germans have been making elaborate preparations for strong attacks all along the front from the Somme River to the Aisne. However, the preparations on this section of the front do not compare in magnitude with those made at Verdun.

The Germans also have to figure upon a British flank attack in West Flanders if they figure upon a serious offensive between the Somme and Aisne Rivers.

In any case they cannot hop to surprise the French, for air scouts keep General Joffre constantly notified of movements behind the German front. At every point where it is possible for the Germans to make a strong drive the French have massed great forces of reserves together with reserve supplies of guns and ammunition.

General Joffre and General Castelnau are employing their characteristically conservative tactics, and have thus far refused to launch a counter offensive, although violent counter attacks have been made at points where the Germans took trenches.

LAUNCH NEW DRIVE ON VERDUN

bombarded violently during the night La Mort Homme (the dead man) and the "Ole," as well as the principal crossings of the Meuse. There was little activity by artillery to the east of the Meuse.

"In the Woevre region, after a violent preparation with artillery, the enemy directed late yesterday a heavy attack on our positions at Fresnes. He was immediately driven by our counter attack, from some trench sections which he had succeeded in penetrating.

"In Lorraine a bombardment of several hours directed against Ste Marie farm, to the west of Beuange, was followed by an enemy attack, which was completely checked.

"In Alsace some attacks directed by strong German patrols on our small posts in the valley of the Lauch were repulsed with grenades."

GREEK CABINET IN LONG WAR SESSION

London, March 2.—An Athens dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company says the Greek Cabinet sat until late at night discussing the situation. Members of the government were authority for the statement that so far no event had occurred to justify a change in Greek policy.

The "non-intervention" press is dealing extensively with the attack on Verdun and giving high prominence to the German official communications.

NELSON IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Chicago, March 2.—Battling Nelson, erstwhile lightweight champion of the world, was informed by Judge Kersten that today was his last day as the husband of his "Li'l Pal," Fay King Nelson, the Kansas City cartoonist.

Mrs. Nelson failed to defend herself against the fighter's accusation that she had deserted him, his reason for asking a divorce. Nor only did she fail to put in an appearance in the court room, but she also declined, when informed of the decision, to make any comment, until she was positive she was free.

HIS 'LI'L PAL' BUT NO WIFE.

"Bat's" testimony was brief. He claimed he married Miss Fay King in 1913 and that she refused at once to live with him. And he claimed that his married life the third year was just the same as the first—wifeless. He introduced as evidence, also many letters written by Mrs. Nelson, in which she called him her "Wooly Lamb" and styled herself "Li'l Pal," although she steadfastly refused to be his wife.

"When did you separate?" he was asked.

"Three days after our marriage she left."

"Why did she leave?"

"Just said she didn't care to live with me any longer."

"Was the marriage between yourself and wife ever consummated?"

"No, sir; never was."

"Do you know why your wife assumed the attitude she did?"

"No, sir; she simply said she didn't care enough for me to be a wife to me."

THOUGHT HE NEEDED HER.

"Did she again return?"

"Yes, she came back in March when I was in Pueblo, Col., training for a fight."

"How long did she remain?"

"Until June 1, and again went on her way."

"Did she come back again?"

"Yes, about November 1."

"Why did she return?"

"She said she thought I needed her."

"Did she leave you after that?"

"Yes, about the last of November, 1915, and she has consistently refused to join me since."

"Have you ever written to her or otherwise tried to induce her to return?"

"Yes, but she always replied she didn't want anything further to do with me; that she liked me as a friend, but not as a husband."

"The letter in which Mrs. Nelson broke the news to her husband that she would never go back to him was read:

"Dear Bat," she wrote, "your letter received. There isn't any more to be said regarding that matter. I'm done being a vaudeville vehicle of our misery. That hurt me deeply, dear.

"I will never live with you again.

"I could never return to the misery and unhappiness my life with you wilds with you. It is too late now.

"I started you kindly when you were in K. C. because I was sorry for you. My feelings for you are kind, I wish you well.

"But we will never live together again. You killed what little love I ever have had for you long before we were married, and I can never forgive you for dragging me into the mire did in Chicago.

"I shall go on as I am until I am free, and it is my wish to be free.

"FAY."

Sues Agent He Claims Led 'Baby Doll' Wife to Suicide's Grave

CABOT HITS AT PLEA TO LET INSANE DIE

Dr. Richard C. Cabot, speaking today before the Social Service Council of Unitarian Women in the Arlington Street Church, scored Professor Scott Nearing of Toledo for saying that the abnormal, feeble-minded and insane had better be left to die.

"This is pagan. It is anti-Christian," maintained Dr. Cabot. "The disposition that led Germany into Belgium—that might makes right, that the weak have no right to exist—is thoroughly opposed to the Christian teaching.

"We are making a mistake in separating charities from churches. The time is coming when all charities, as well as hospitals, will be run under the management of the churches.

"Sometimes it is said that all we are doing by social work is to put a drop in the bucket. But we are not put in this world to run it. We must do the things which are small and in doing them fulfill our duty to the Supreme that is in us.

"The hospital of the future is going to be Christian. The Christian church is going to take up social service work and stay there.

"There is nothing like the gospel of Christ for reforming this world, and with it will come the rebuilding of character. When a girl goes wrong some people think she needs the gospel of hygiene. But we must depend more in life upon practical religion. It will not do to rest entirely upon hygiene to reform people. Nothing less than Christianity will accomplish this."

SCENTS PLAN TO RAISE ICE PRICE

The question as to whether an attempt is being made to squeeze money out of the city on ice contracts will be taken up tomorrow by the City Hospital trustees.

On January 1 last a bid of 2¾ a ton was rejected on the ground that it was an increase of 50 cents a ton over last year. Since that time two other bids have been received, one for $4.50 and one for $4 per ton. These will be considered tomorrow by the trustees, and there is a strong possibility that both will be rejected.

New York, March 2.—Max Hart, a booking agent, was named as defendant in two Supreme Court actions growing out of the recent suicide of Clara Inge, the "baby doll" of the vaudeville stage.

In one action, Charles E. Eckel, automobile tire manufacturer, and former husband of Clara Inge, sues Hart for $100,000 damages. Eckel charges that Hart with alienating the affections of Mrs. Eckel, and causing the mental condition which resulted in her suicide on December 12, last.

In the other action Mrs. Madge Hart sues Hart for absolute divorce. She names the dead actress, alleging that Hart confessed his infatuation for Mrs. Eckel after the latter's death.

Eckel alleges that he pleaded with Hart to stop influencing Mrs. Eckel to remain away from her husband and child. He says Hart's only answer was: "If she returns to you I will kill her."

"Finally, my wife's condition was desperate," he adds. "In a highly excited state of mind and with intent and purpose to free herself from Hart's control and influence she sought death by her own hand."

FIREMEN RESCUE MAN UNDER TRUCK

John D. Foudlough, twenty-seven, No. 22 Hancock street, West End, was severely injured today when an automobile truck which he was driving dropped down an elevator well in a garage at No. 22 Chardon street.

Foudlough, who is chauffeur for W. B. Howard, Panesuli Hall market, was pinned under the truck, and rescued by members of the fire department who were called. He had lost control of the machine which dropped from the first floor to the basement, a distance of ten feet.

The injured man was taken to the Relief Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained contusions and abrasions of the back, right hip and right shoulder.

QUESTIONS BRANDEIS' DENIAL

Washington, March 2.—Francis Peabody of Boston took the stand today as the first witness in the Brandeis investigation, to testify concerning the latter's reputation, and the Illinois Central fight.

"We were friends," he said, when asked whether he knew Mr. Brandeis. "I knew his partner, Sam Warren, very well."

Mr. Peabody told of being approached by a young man, who said he came from Mr. Brandeis' office, and that Mr. Brandeis had suggested that he might turn his proxy over to those who were fighting Stuyvesant Fish and would come to see him about it. Mr. Peabody declined to give his proxy to the Brandeis firm, and the matter was dropped.

"What is Mr. Brandeis's reputation?" asked Mr. Pou.

"His reputation for ability is good," said the witness. "I think he is considered conspicuously able. On the other hand, his reputation is that he is not always truthful. He is not trustworthy and sails under false colors."

"LOST FAITH IN BRANDEIS."

"Did you follow the campaign carried on against Mr. Brandeis by the Barron papers?" asked Mr. Anderson.

The witness said that he did not.

Mr. Peabody added that he came into contact with many younger members of the Suffolk bar, and that the reputation he had ascribed to Mr. Brandeis was general.

"I liked Mr. Brandeis and found him congenial," he said, "but I lost faith in him."

To illustrate what he referred to as Mr. Brandeis' "ingeniousness" in not being frank concerning the clients for whom he appeared at various times, Mr. Peabody cited the Ballinger investigation.

"We at first thought it was very fine of him to come to the aid of a fellow-Jew, Mr. Glavis, who had been turned out. When we found that he was being paid by Colliers' we changed our minds," he said.

THOUGHT DENIAL FALSE.

Upon cross-examination Mr. Anderson brought up Mr. Brandeis' letter denying that he represented E. H. Harriman in the Illinois Central fight.

"I regarded the letter," said Mr. Peabody, "as entirely inconsistent with what the young man who came to my office from the Brandeis firm had said. What he stated was the letter untrue. I believe the letter is untrue."

Seymour Bacon, former mayor of Cleveland, O., president of National Consumers' League, presented a statement in behalf of 1,000 labor leaders and social workers of New York city, approving the Brandeis nomination. The statement declared Mr. Brandeis' work in connection with the garment trade in Chicago, New York and in defence of the Oregon and Illinois eight-hour laws for women.

The statement is signed by Oscar Strauss, Frederic C. Howe, Hamilton Holt, Edward T. Devine, Henry R. Bruere, George P. Kirchwey, Warden of Sing Sing, and many others, including officials of labor organizations.

Outside of Boston, Mr. Baker said, Mr. Brandeis was known as "able, detached, spiritual and high-minded man."

The preparation of the statement presented by Mr. Baker was started, he told the committee, by Paul Kellog, editor of The Survey.

MOSKOWITZ FOR BRANDEIS.

Henry Moskowitz, president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, associated with Mr. Brandeis in the garment trade arbitration, testified concerning what had been accomplished in this field. Mr. Moskowitz added that Mr. Brandeis's decisions in the garment trade disputes were, above all, judicial in character, and that he was conspicuously able to see both sides of a question.

Melvin O. Adams of Boston followed as a character witness. "There is unanimous assent," he said, "that Mr. Brandeis is a very able lawyer, of profound learning, but that upon the question whether he is and has been wholly straightforward in his practice, there is a divided opinion.

"There is a group of men of high standing, such as General Peabody, in the community who are near the network of State Street, our financial street, who state that Mr. Brandeis is not altogether straightforward. I think those opinions when traced run into one or another of these people in the Lennox case, the United Shoe Machinery case, the wrecking of the New Haven, one or three others. On the other hand, there is a large body of the bar who believe that he is to be treated by lofty purposes, is honest and trustworthy."

Asa E. French of Boston, former United States attorney, president of the Norfolk County Bar Association, concerning Mr. Brandeis' reputation, said:

"I have never heard it assailed or questioned by an impartial witness, that is, by one whose opinions or interests have not been warped by Mr. Brandeis. There is an aristocracy of the Boston bar. I am not a part of it, an offensive way, which cannot consider with equanimity the appointment of any one to so high a court who is not a typical, hereditary Bostonian.

"Among the rank and file Mr. Brandeis is known as a man of integrity, a man of honor, a man who is conscientiously striving for what he believes to be right. He is combative, aggressive and has been on the fighting line for so many years its not strange that he had made enemies."

Thomas J. Boynton of Everett, Mass., testified that Mr. Brandeis's reputation was good down to the time his appointment was made and the only criticism made against him that came to his attention was embodied in the pamphlet issued by the United Shoe Machinery Company.

WHY ORPET CHARMED MARIAN

A great deal has been written about Orpet Opera Joyce affair with Marian Lambert. Many pictures of him and of her have been published. Much has been said about what he may or may not have done. But little has been told of what he really is, how he looks, how he does the little things of daily life.

A newspaper in Chicago has revealed this interesting side of the story. Love letters written by the writer in that paper says of his physical appearance:

"William Orpet, of Lake Forest, held to this Lake County Grand Jury in connection with the death by poison of Marian Lambert, is a physical reproduction of the school girl's ideal.

"Not one picture published has been able to give to the public an accurate or even a just presentation of this tall, whose face and figure are a veritable denial of any one's conception of a criminal.

"The first impression, and the most striking, projected from his personality is one of health, frankness, youth. The face expresses an absolutely normal mentality, with the added grace of uniformed character and, perhaps, something of the weakness of those beings for whom sex attraction is stronger than reason.

CLEAN, HEALTHY YOUNGSTER.

"His skin is a tender mirror for the play of an ever-ready flush, which comes and goes upon his face with passing emotions. An air of careful grooming, as of one who takes pleasure in reflecting cleanliness for its own sake, is the result of neat dressing, much shaving and the almost fanatic use of hair-brush and tooth paste and just plain scrubbing.

"His eyes are a soft, winning blue. They look at you simply, almost guilelessly. Lately they seem impassive, with the studied, expressionless gaze of one determined to reveal nothing of the workings of his mind and heart.

"Lips, smooth, pink, guiltless of the lines or discoloring of the tobacco fiend, fold lightly over healthy teeth and melt away into the soft curves of his rather effeminate chin.

"His yellow hair is as silky as a girl's—the sort of hair that makes women wish to play with it."

HAS FASCINATION FOR WOMEN.

He fascinates women. He is one of the opposite sex with the gentleness, the softness, the natural tact that wins them. In the course of experience he has learned to add to these qualities a flash of the eye, a turn of the hand, the general breathing of a gallant that holds the feminine attention for one's sake, is the result of neat dressing, much shaving and the almost fanatic use of hair-brush and tooth paste and just plain scrubbing.

Schumann-Heink Finds Frivolous Mothers to Blame for Tragedies

By MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK.

Give your girls housework to do. Teach them sewing. Give your boys a military training for at least two years. Teach them respect for authority, obedience and thrift. Make your homes places where young people want to stay. Then you will do away for all time with tragedies like Marian Lambert's death.

To me the liberty allowed the American youth is shocking. Chaperones are extinct as the dodo, seemingly, after a girl reaches the age of ten. And it's all wrong. Mothers are just beginning to see how it really is. A girl needs to be chaperoned until she is twenty-five. And then she should be married!

Take away this dreadful idleness from our girls of the present day and give them a chance to make women of themselves. Marian Lambert would not be dead today if her mother had really interested her in the big ideals of life as every true woman sees it—in home making, cooking, sewing, and the many little things that only a woman can do about a house.

MOTHERS ARE TO BLAME.

But that is just where I say that mothers today are to blame for the troubles of their children.

Mothers of this generation are failing of their jobs. Many and many a time I have been begged on my knees by pale-to-tango cross to the wake of a too energetic mother. The big overpowering truth is that MOTHERS TODAY ARE FRIVOLOUS.

Girls are actually standing to each other "that they'll be glad when the time comes for mother to settle down." Dancing mothers do not call for profound respect from their daughters, and little else can be expected to wonder when the inevitable happens and the daughters skate merrily along the easy road that their mothers have introduced to them.

What our girls need today, and need with a deep, vital need that goes right into every fun-loving heedless feminine heart—is for fewer "lively mothers" and more "dreadful mothers." The kind of motherhood that waits with wise patience, understanding, support and love and stands, gains respect and love and holds a girl's confidence—that is the kind of a mother that will anchor any girl, I care not what her temptations may be.

You see, I firmly believe when God found he couldn't attend to all the little details of the world, he made mothers. Also, I know what I am talking about when I admit that motherhood is the biggest thing a woman can undertake.

NOT AN IDEAL NOW.

But motherhood these days is not an ideal—it is just old-fashioned!

Sometimes girls have come to me.

"Madame," they say, "I want to sing."

And I reach up and rub the paint off their young, round cheeks.

"Come back to me," I tell them, "some other day, when your face is fresh and clear as it should be. Come back when you realize that the fact of your youth you are squandering. Then will I hear you sing and not before. Womanliness comes before art, always.

"What do you fun-loving girls think life is for? Happiness? Well and how will you ever gain happiness at the mad rate you are going?

"You don't realize the men you know respect you. How can you in turn expect that some day when you are old children will respect you?"

Dressing has a lot to do these days with the sort of attention men pay to girls. A man who is look a for a good girl has a bar. time to pick her out of the crowd.

ONLY ONE DISTINCTION.

All girls dress alike. The only distinction seems to be given the one who shows up as the farthest in advance of clothes that are cut too low and skirts that cut too short. Clay-colored shoes, shirts to the knees and dresses shockingly low will never prepare a girl for motherhood. If girls have any ideals it is a wonder what they are.

My boys, all of them, have married wife and home. And I am proud of their wives. They have happy homes because they are not afraid to work. Any girl who works should thank Heaven for the blessing that has been given to her.

Girls should not be pampered. They should know the world needs the labor of their hands. And above all they should be taught the only true dignity in life comes with worthy, intelligent, character-making work—and lots of it!

BIG CAMBRIDGE FIRE IN COAL POCKETS

A shift of the wind alone saved the huge gasometers of the Cambridge Gas Company, with their 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas, from the fire which destroyed the coal pockets and stables of the plant and threatened for two hours the entire manufacturing district along Broad Canal in Cambridge.

Aided by the change of direction of the wind, firemen from Cambridge, Somerville and Boston succeeded in keeping the huge tanks cool, and in preventing the spread of the flames to the brick buildings of the company, in which the gas is measured and purified.

While all the available firemen were fighting to prevent an explosion that would have shaken all Boston, the flames from the long coal sheds mounted high into the air, lighting up the sky with a fierce glow that was visible for miles around and giving rise to the impression that some part of Cambridge Boston was being swept by a conflagration.

The fire was first discovered in about the centre of the 700 foot coal shed of the gas company, which fronts Broad Canal. This shed was nearly sixty feet high, with coal hoisting towers jutting up as high again, at intervals. In the shed was stored 7,000 tons of coal, together with coal handling machinery and engines.

When the nature of the blaze was realized by the firemen a fourth alarm was sounded, until a general alarm had called out the entire Cambridge department and two from Somerville. Fire companies from Arlington answered with control and a fifth call was sent to the city.

Early at the office of the gas company was Albert M. Harnes, president of the firm. He personally directed the fight of the gasworkers to avert the danger of explosion of the great store of gas in the gasholders.

He estimated the loss at $100,000 including the shed, coal handling and hoisting machinery, stable, wharf and pier.

President Harnes, after an investigation, declared that in his opinion the fire was caused by crossed wires.

NOURSE'S NAME OFF IPSWICH BALLOT

Judge Irwin in the Superior Court, at Salem, today, issued a writ of mandamus ordering Charles W. Bamford, town clerk of Ipswich, and the Ipswich Board of Registrars, to permit John W. Nourse to withdraw as a candidate for school committee. Nourse desired to withdraw because he learned after he became a candidate, that Luther Wait, a friend, who is in Florida, was also a candidate and he did not desire to run against him.

WANT ITALY TO PLAY BIGGER PART IN WAR

Rome, March 2.—The Italian Chamber of Deputies reopened today. A meeting has been held by the so-called Interventionists, or war party, which includes the majority of the Nationalists, Reformist, Radical and Socialist parties, for the purpose of discussing action to be taken toward inducing the government to increase Italian participation in the war. This subject will be brought up for discussion in the Chamber.

PHONE GIRLS IN THREE CITIES MAY STRIKE

A strike of telephone operators in Boston and Worcester, as well as in Salem, may result from trouble between the girls and the Salem office in that city today, which culminated in a sensational mass meeting that demanded the reinstatement of an operator who had been discharged.

The girl discharged was Miss Rose Barli, toll line operator. The union says she was discharged for a "slight breach of discipline" and in violation of the rule that no girl shall be discharged till she has been suspended three times.

The union claims Miss Barli has never been suspended.

Miss Barli was discharged Friday. The union has voted to send a committee to confer with District Traffic Chief Benjamin on the matter, and the Worcester and Boston unions have voted to support the Salem union.

It was learned today that William T. Foster, president of Reed College, Portland, Ore., is being considered by the State Board of Education for commissioner of education to succeed David Snedden, who recently resigned to return to Columbia University.

NEWTOWNE CLUB FAIR ON TONIGHT

The annual fair of the Newtowne Club of Cambridge begins tonight and will continue the balance of this week. It is expected to be even a greater success than last year's affair. There will be dancing every evening. On Saturday afternoon children accompanied by adults will be given an entertainment.

RADIUM SURGEON FOR BILLY SUNDAY

Baltimore, March 2.—The condition of Billy Sunday's voice is causing considerable worry to Mrs. Sunday and the campaigner here today. The evangelist's physicians, Drs. Howard A. and A. Kelly, the radium surgeon, is treating his throat.

GIRL BRIDE WINS OVER PUBLIC

Fort Worth, Tex., March 2.—Indictment of Katherine Vance Harrison, niece of Senator Charles Culberson, hangs fire. She has frankly confessed she shot to death W. H. Warren, the hotel proprietor, who she alleges, attacked her a few days before her marriage last December.

Yet the Grand Jury that heard her tell, under oath, of her act of vengeance, today make no move to bring in a formal indictment.

Two reasons are advanced for the delay. One is that public sentiment here is so powerfully in favor of the fifteen-year-old girl that it may result in the jury bringing in no indictment at all.

CONTROVERSY OVER AGE.

Another reason is the controversy over the bride's age. While her family contends she is now only fifteen, relatives of her dead victim, Warren, declare she is eighteen or nineteen. They have asked the opportunity to prove this. If they can bring forth the necessary proof it may change the rumored purpose of the Grand Jury not to bring in a true bill against the accused girl.

If her age is only fifteen, the Texas law prevents her exempt from a charge of murder, but if she is eighteen she can be indicted and prosecuted.

But not all the proof in the world would cause a Texas jury to convict her in the present frame of public sentiment here.

HER CHUM MISSING.

Industrious efforts today to locate Lois Gulion, the chum of Miss Harrison, who first told the police of the bride's murder of Warren, proved fruitless. The police authorities say she has left town for a visit.

Mrs. Lillie Tankard, mother of the girl-bride, who yesterday talked freely about her daughter's act, sealed her lips today, and refused to let the family of her daughter's husband be criticised for her suffering. She says hereafter have nothing more to say about the case.

DEMOCRATS IN N. Y. ENDORSE WILSON

By International News Service.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 2.—The Democratic State convention adopted a platform today endorsing the administration of President Wilson and urging his renomination and reelection.

A resolution was adopted recommending the re-election of Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, as Democratic National Committeeman. The following were chosen delegates-at-large to the St. Louis convention:

United States Senator James O'Gorman, William Church Osborn, chairman of the Democratic State committee; Samuel Untermyer and George J. Meyer, of Buffalo, a German-American.

These alternates were chosen: John J. Boland, Thomas F. Conway, Cornelius F. Burns and F. L. Crocker.

HARVARD JUNIOR AWARDED CROSS

Joseph M Mellen, a Harvard junior, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre for conspicuous bravery under fire while driving an ambulance in the service of the American Ambulance Corps in France the past Summer.

Mellen, with three other Harvard men, were members of the Harvard-Ambulance Corps in the Vosges Mountains. The young student drove his ambulance through the trenches for eight days with very little sleep, transporting the wounded over difficult mountain roads under shell fire.

KENTUCKY G. O. P. FOR FAIRBANKS

No Trouble to Remove Superfluous Hair

(Toilet Tips)

It is an easy matter to rid the skin of objectional hair or fuzz, if you proceed as follows: Mix a paste with some water and a little powdered delatone, apply to hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method of banishing hairy growths is painless and does not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

BLOODY FINGER PRINT MAY PROVE CLEW IN ROPER MURDER

DOOR FOUND UNLOCKED.

There were several striking developments in the mysterious tragedy today.

An extra door in one end of the greenhouse where the murder was committed was found by the officers to have been opened from the inside, closed and left unlocked.

The police believe that the murderer took his way out. There are only two doors to the whole greenhouse plant, which is made up of four parallel houses, connected at one end by a passage.

The door is directly in the rear of the Roper home and opens into the tenant greenhouse, where the murder was done. The other door is at the farther end of the same greenhouse. It was the latter door which, usually locked from the inside, was found unlocked.

BODY DRAGGED IN SAND.

The body was found near this unused door. From the body a furrow in the sanded floor of the greenhouse aisle led around to an opposite aisle where the victim's cap and pencil, also a bloodstain, were first found by the second son, Arthur Roper.

The murderer, the police say, struck the florist down from behind with a piece of lead pipe, near where the cap and pencil were found, then dragged the body around into the opposite aisle and toward the spare door.

Is the murderer planned to haul the body outdoors, that intention was evidently abandoned, and the criminal left the body, opened the locked door and went out.

COURT OFFICIALS VISIT SCENE.

Another striking development today also was the visit to the scene of Presiding Justice Thomas J. Enright, Associate Justice John N. Pickman and Clerk Edward Trull of Lowell District Court, in company with Police Superintendent Welch and Sheriff Charles A. Eveleth of Middlesex County.

This was the first time that the Lowell Court justices ever went out on a murder case in person.

These officials examined the greenhouse plant and questioned members of the Roper family for two hours.

Arthur Roper, night fireman at the plant, who found the body, had been questioned previously by Police Inspector Maher and Petrie of Lowell, who had been summoned to Tewksbury by Constable Frank A. Farmer.

DELAY IN GIVING ALARM.

Arthur Roper found his father's body at 10 o'clock last night. The Lowell police did not get a telephone call from Constable Farmer until 1 a. m. Comment was made on this strange delay. But the constable said today that he did not get a telephone call from the Roper home until 11:40, more than one and one-half hours after the time when Arthur Roper said he found the body. Hence the delay in information to the Lowell police.

Arthur Roper returned to his own home in Wilmington at 1 a. m. After the Lowell officials had made their examination at the Roper premises they started for Wilmington to see this son and get more details of his finding the body and whatever else he knew.

ELDEST SON HEARD FROM.

Albert Roper, the eldest son, who left home Washington's birthday following an argument with his father over money matters, telephoned his brother Mark at the Roper home at 7 a. m. today from Boston that he had just heard of the murder and would take the first train for home. He had not arrived by noon.

Mark said today:

"There had been a difference between Albert and father over proceeds of flower sales. We sons who worked for father got good wages from him but had no financial interest in the business."

Fred Roper, another son, arrived from Revere at 11 a. m.

Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs of Lowell began an autopsy on Mr. Roper's body at the Farmer undertaking place before noon.

A piece of scalp, with bloodstained hair attached, was found in the greenhouse where the cap and pencil were found. The police say that this was torn from the victim's head when the death blow was struck.

EXPERT ON CARNATIONS.

Albert Roper was an expert on carnations, as well as a grower in the general flower market. He had secrets of carnation culture which made his plants and blooms greatly sought by the retailers who go to the Boston Flower Exchange daily to buy from the growers. The Roper carnations brought from 50 to 200 per cent higher than the regular market prices. Mr. Roper kept his carnation secrets to himself, so far as known Boston carnation handlers said today. Ever feared he has taken some of his horticulture secrets to the grave.

Washington's Birthday is recalled in the stricken Roper home not only as the time when Albert, the eldest son, left home, but also as the day when a floral wreath arrived at the house, sent by a group of Boston waiters. The dead heard a report that Mr. Roper was dead.

On his Boston flower market day Mr. Roper ate luncheon in the same restaurant, where he was popular with the waiters. On February 22 these waiters heard their patron had died at his Tewksbury home. They promptly subscribed for a funeral wreath, which Mr. Roper received with natural surprise and considerable pleasure. From the funeral cars he learned the source of the wreath.

On his next Boston trip he spoke severely to the waiters, thinking the wreath was meant an ill-conceived practical joke. When he recognized that they sent the wreath in good faith his displeasure toward them vanished, but he tried hard to find who started the report of his death.

The fact of the wreath was recalled today by the waiters and by Mr. Roper's floral colleagues on account of the tragic manner in which the funeral tribute suddenly justified itself.

Tewksbury and Lowell police said today that there is evidence pointing to robbery as the motive. One pocket in the victim's clothing, the only one to which he carried money, was turned inside out. Wallet and money were gone.

Mr. Roper came to Boston two or three times a week to sell flowers. Yesterday was one of his Boston days. He returned home late in the afternoon with his market receipts, estimated from $400 to $500.

PROBABLE ROBBERY MOTIVE.

The manner in which he was waylaid in the greenhouse, the way the murderer went solely to the victim's pocket and accomplished the murder and robbery without being detected by members of the florist's family indicate, the police say, that the assailant was thoroughly familiar with Mr. Roper's habits and with the greenhouse premises.

The body was discovered at 10 o'clock last night by Arthur Roper, the second of Mr. Roper's five sons, and employed by his father as night fireman of the greenhouses.

All members of the family who were at home were questioned closely by the police in an effort to get a clew to the murderer.

The oldest son, Albert Roper, had been working for his father and living at home. Constable Frank A. Farmer of Tewksbury said today that Albert left home on Monday, February 21, after an argument with his father regarding his work. The constable says that Albert returned home, but left again a day or two later and has not been seen by members of the family since.

GRIM COINCIDENCE.

A strange thing in connection with the tragedy is that last week the wholesale flower dealers in Boston received a report that Mr. Roper had died at home. They promptly made up an elaborate floral wreath and shipped it to the Roper residence.

This wreath arrived on Washington's birthday. It was regarded as a particularly grim joke, upon Mr. Roper.

The fact of the wreath was recalled today with peculiar interest on account of the tragic manner in which the mistaken mourning emblem finally justified itself.

The florist victim was fifty-two years old. His household consisted of himself, his wife, Mrs. Amelia Roper; a daughter, Miss Elsie Roper, and two of the five sons, Chester, the youngest, and Albert, the eldest, who left home last week.

Arthur, the second son and night fireman, is married, has a home in Wilmington, but is at the greenhouses nights. Mark, the third son, has a separate home in Tewksbury. Fred, the fourth son, lives in Revere.

The Roper homestead is on Pleasant street, Tewksbury Centre. The house is near the street. Back of the house are the four large greenhouses, built parallel and with a connecting building running along one end of the four structures.

ELLA HARDY ON 18TH RUNAWAY TRIP TO BOSTON

Ella Hardy, eight, "champion runaway child," who has run away from her home on Gray street, Cambridge, seventeen times, has again disappeared and at last accounts was roaming in the storm, unaccompanied, in the market district. She was seen and recognized by several policemen, but they made no attempt to quiz her as they believed she was with older people.

A telephone call from Mrs. Hardy to Captain Sullivan of the Court Square Station, one of Ella's closest friends, resulted in orders being issued by the captain for all of his men to be on the lookout for Ella.

Only last Tuesday Ella walked into the station house and stated that the object of the visit was to get the ten cents she had left on her last visit.

Austrians Now Ready to Make Drive at Italy

By International News Service.

Rome, March 2.—The Austrians are preparing for an offensive on the Italian front, to which they are rushing reinforcements on the pretext that these are to replace the troops weakened by Winter hardships and disease. It is well known, however, that the million Austrians now on the Italian front are most efficient.

With the object of hiding concentration and movements of troops the Austrians have closed the Swiss frontier.

SHIP ATTACKED BY GERMAN AEROPLANE

London, March 2.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Christiania says a German aeroplane attacked with bombs the Norwegian steamer Moderni, bound for England, but that the vessel was not damaged.

Available shipping records do not contain the steamer Moderni. There is, however, a Modemi, a vessel of 1,454 tons, and a Modena, of 1,143 tons.

BRITISH DETAIN CARGOES FROM U. S.

London, March 2.—The Norwegian steamer Unita, from Baltimore February 8, for Aalborg with grain; the Danish steamer Oscar II, from New York for Copenhagen with a general cargo, and the Norwegian tank steamer Conrad Mohr from New York for Bergen with petroleum, have been detained at Kirkwall.

Russia May Be Forced to Give Bread Tickets

Petrograd, March 2. — The food shortage in Russia due to the war is beginning to be keenly felt among all classes of people. The Ministry of Agriculture announces that meat may only be eaten on five days during the week, and flour has become so scarce that bread tickets will be probably issued soon. Whereas soldiers were formerly allowed a heavy meat ration, now they get one-half the former amount.

Since the beginning of the war the herds of horned cattle in European Russia, then totalling 40,000,000 head, have decreased by 15 per cent.

STANDARD OIL CO. OF N.Y.

SAFEST and BEST

FROM now on, the Standard Oil Company of New York's best grade of refined oil will be sold by name—SOCONY (So-CO-ny) Kerosene Oil.

It was the Standard Oil Company which was responsible for making kerosene a safe and reliable fuel in the early days of the petroleum industry.

Today SOCONY, which is the trademarked name we have given to our best grade of kerosene, represents the last word in the refining of kerosene oil.

All kerosene is not alike by any means. And the good kind is enough better to be decidedly worth asking for. If you want the most heat from your stoves and heaters, most light from your lamps and lanterns, with complete freedom from smoke and odor, order SOCONY Kerosene by name.

Dealers who carry genuine SOCONY Kerosene Oil display the SOCONY sign in their windows. Look for this sign. It is the sign of quality and the world's best kerosene.

FIND 11 STEEL SAWS HIDDEN ON LYMAN; HELD WITHOUT BAIL

By the International News Service.

New York, March 2.—Dr. J. Grant Lyman, accused of swindling stock buyers of $700,000 today was held without bail by the Federal authorities until tomorrow. Federal Judge Dayton ordered bail fixed in the sum of $100,000, the highest bond ever demanded in a similar case. Lyman's lawyers asked that it be reduced, and the court took the case under advisement until tomorrow. Meanwhile Lyman was remanded to the Tombs.

In the alleged swindler's clothing today United States marshals discovered 11 steel saws. They said Lyman could have cut his way out of any jail in the country.

"I like the Tombs better than the jail at Tampa," Lyman said. "After my incarceration in those Southern prisons, I have every reason to congratulate myself that I slept in the Tombs last night."

Lyman refused to discuss his financial transactions in any way. Asked if he knew that his sister, Miss Alice Lyman, had testified to recent bankruptcy proceedings that she believed him to be insane Lyman said:

"Yes, and I am beginning to share my sister's belief. I sometimes wonder if I am in my right mind. You know I wrote a book 'Am I Insane?'"

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:
Bay Rum ..... 1 oz.
Barbo Compound ..... a small box
Glycerine ..... ½ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It soons the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

Feathery Snow Takes the Lamb Out of March

The lamb that came along with March
Had fleece as white as snow,
But soon that fleece began to fall
Where e'er the lamb did go.

A fine snow storm began to fall over Greater Boston early today—about 2.30 a. m.

Big feathery flakes they were. They were fair to see, but railroad and trolley men viewed them with dismay, wondering if they were in for another struggle with slippery rails, plugged switches, obscured signals and other storm troubles.

The temperature was seasonable.

MAY INCREASE TOWN SALARIES IN BROOKLINE

An increase in the salaries of the Brookline Selectmen is being considered by the sub-committee of the Committee of Thirty. For sixteen years there has not been an increase in the town officers' salaries despite the fact that the volume of business transacted by the selectmen has greatly increased.

It is suggested that the salary of the chairman be increased $1,000 so that the salary shall be $2,500, and that the salary of the other four members be $1,500, an increase of $500.

The Committee on Public Safety and Health, of which J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., is chairman, is considering a recommendation made by the selectmen relative to increases for the police and fire departments. The selectmen recommended an increase of $100 for patrolmen, five years in service, making their salary $1,500; sergeants, an increase from $1,400 to $1,550, and lieutenants from $1,600 to $1,800.

They also recommend increases as proposed by the fire commissioner that the assistant chief receive $2,050, an increase of $250, captains from $1,600 to $1,800, engineers from $1,350 to $1,475, and privates from $1,200 to $1,300.

Society interest centres today around the skating carnival to be held this evening at the Boston Arena. It is the annual carnival for the Ellis Memorial, but this year a new feature, a costume ball on ice, all wearing fancy dress and competing for prizes for the most artistic and grotesque costumes. There will be a variety of prizes for singles, pairs and groups, and a large number of prominent skaters will compete. There will be a grand march by all in costume. Miss Theresa Weld, the champion skater of the United States, will give an exhibition and Mrs. Channing Frothingham and her brother, Charles M. Rotch, are among the exhibitors. After the program there will be general skating from 10 until 12. A long list of society women are patronesses for the affair.

Mrs. Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Mrs. Arthur T. Cabot, Mrs. Robert D. Evans, Mrs. John L. Gardner, Mrs. Edward Burlingame Hill, Mrs. Edward L. Adams and Mrs. George A. Draper are a few of the sponsors for the entertainment held this afternoon on Jordan Hall for the benefit of the Red Acre Farm, the charitable home and rest for horses. GALLIVAN FIGHTS BOSTON P. O. CHANGE

Washington, March 2.—Congressman Gallivan made protest to the postoffice department, against the proposed reorganization of the central postoffice in Boston, said to be under consideration by the department. He stated he had been informed that Postmaster Murray intended to reduce the number of deliveries and install the force in the central office by transferring some of the men and putting others back on the substitute list.

Until the proposed changes in operation, according to Mr. Gallivan's information, carriers would be given longer routes. To this Mr. Gallivan offers strong objection.

LID ON NEW YORK SUNDAY THEATRES

New York, March 2.—A campaign was begun by the corporation counsel's office against Sunday theatrical performances which violate the city ordinances limiting entertainments on that day to sacred and educational concerts, vocal and instrumental music, lectures, addresses and recitations.

Suit was filed against the largest theatre in New York, alleging that on February 20, a performance was given which included "tragedy, comedy, opera, ballet, farce, negro minstrelsy, dancing and other prohibited exhibitions."

Remember—We hold this sale only twice a year—before the regular season gets under way.

R. H. WHITE CO.

White's 10th Semi-Annual Made-to-Measure Sale of Men's Spring Suits and Coats for $18.75

Notwithstanding the greater cost of materials and labor—we have decided to retain the same price as last year—because we managed to offset the price advances by organizing this sale, arranging for the materials and tailors' services before the advances became effective.

Hence if you place your order before the sale ends you can obtain a new Spring Suit or Coat made to your measure for $18.75, the same price as last year.

The great variety of fabrics for your selection is a feature of this event—making possible three most desirable elements—exclusiveness in material—made-to-measure fit and a very low price that saves a man enough money to make this sale worth while.

Starts Friday, March 3, at 8:30 A.M.
Ends Monday, March 13, at 5:30 P.M.

In this sale experienced fitters are in attendance to take your special measure.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

"TIZ" FOR FEET

For Sore, Tired, Swollen Feet; For Aching, Tender, Calloused Feet or Painful Corns—Use "Tiz!"

Good-bye, sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, tender feet, tired feet.

Good-bye, corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "Tiz" is magical, acts right off. "Tiz" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "Tiz" and wear smaller shoes. Use "Tiz" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. Beware of Imitations!

"CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Enjoy Life! Stop Headaches, Sour Stomach, Biliousness, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Constipation.

They're a Treat! Cascarets is Best Laxative for Men, Women, Children—20 Million Boxes Sold Last Year.

Straighten up! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, nervous, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced? You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and calomel. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.

HARTFORD WILL FIGHT TO STAY A REGISTRAR

Ezra C. H. Hartford, whose removal from office as a Republican member of the Watertown Board of Registrars has been asked by the Republican Town Committee on the ground that he has been nominated as a Democratic candidate for the Health Board, said today that he will fight the case, and that he is still a Republican.

Mr. Hartford's status is somewhat complicated. When the "war horse" issue stirred Watertown, Mr. Hartford was serving as chairman of the Republican Town Committee. He objected to the attitude of Republican office-holders in opposition to the horse stockades in Watertown, and as a result was dethroned from his chairmanship.

He was then serving as registrar, and is still so serving. Last week the Democrats nominated him for the Health Board. The election comes Monday. The Republican Town Committee petitioned for his removal from the Board of Registrars on the ground he is no longer a Republican, and the question came up tomorrow evening for decision.

"It wouldn't surprise me," said Mr. Hartford today, "if the selectmen decided to remove me. But I shall go to the courts on the matter and get a test case decision.

"I am a Republican on national and State issues. In town affairs, I believe such issues have no place, and I follow my best judgment on local questions.

"As a Democratic candidate for the Health Board, I expect to be elected on Monday, and would then have to resign from the Board of Registrars, even if they do not remove me.

"But even if I am elected, and so become ineligible to the board, I shall fight for a test case verdict."

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink, which usually makes pimples disappear, cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

TERRIBLE ITCHING PIMPLES ON FACE

Large, Red and Hard, Burned So Large Spots Appeared. At Night Could Not Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"A few pimples made their appearance on my face, and thinking that they would soon disappear I did nothing to remedy them, but after a couple of weeks I then found that they were rapidly increasing. They were large, red and hard and they itched and burned so that soon large red spots appeared caused by my rubbing. At night if I would rub my face it would itch terribly so that I could not sleep.

"I chanced upon a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent for a free sample, and then bought more and my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Edith C. Schuman, 17 Bedford St., Hartford, Conn., Sept. 20, 1915.

Families Flee Mattapan Fire Into the Snow

Patrolman Michael Sullivan and his family were driven out of their home at No. 40 Woolson street, Mattapan section of Dorchester, early today, when the basement caught afire. An overheated furnace caused a blaze and the flames spread rapidly through the three-story wooden house.

Sullivan's wife and four-year-old baby, May, were driven out into the heavy snowstorm that was in progress at 7 o'clock this morning. Likewise Samuel Puddin, who occupies the third floor of the flat, carried his baby, Ellen, one and one-half years old, out into the storm.

The Sullivan family was taken into the adjoining house, occupied by Clerk Thomas Devine of the nineteenth station, and the Ruddin family were taken care of by John Wise, who lives on the third floor of the Devine house.

The firemen confined the blaze to the first and second floors of the Sullivan home. The second floor is unoccupied. Clerk Devine saw the smoke pouring out of the basement as he was on his way to the station, and sent in an alarm. The house is owned by Sullivan and the police place the loss at $1,200.

'Never Again,' Says Princess; Now Plain 'Mrs.'

New York, March 2.—Princess Miskinoff has legally became Mrs. Aimee Crocker Gouraud.

The signature of a justice made binding the separation papers of Mrs. Gouraud and her young man of fashion, Prince Alexandre Miskinoff, Mrs. Gouraud and her foster daughter, Yvonne, held a quiet celebration in their blue and gold suite in the Hotel Netherland. Together, with the famous baby of mystery, the two will shortly leave for the South.

Orders of the strictest sort were issued to the hotel people to respect the wishes of the suzerein of the blue and gold suite to be known hereafter as Mrs. Gouraud.

"No more of the foreign nobility for me!" was Mrs. Gouraud's fervent declaration to a friend.

"No, either," echoed Yvonne, who is recovering from a recent indisposition. "I am glad the Prince is going to Russia. I wish he'd go to China!"

ALL-STAR BILL FOR 'HAPPY'S' CABARET

Eight more days. Only one day more than a week to the red-letter event in the history of Boston entertainment, the Happy Twenty annual cabaret and ball, the biggest, brightest and best affair of its kind that was ever staged in this city.

With a glittering galaxy of stars that will make the Lambs' Gambols resemble a conference of undertakers, the affair will tower in importance far above anything of the kind which has ever been seen either in this city or in New York.

Happy, the indefatigable "King of the Newsies," and Bill Lang, who is in charge of the program, are continually securing new features, which, as Happy succinctly remarks, will "knock 'em cold."

Nothing is being overlooked in order to make the affair the most successful ever held, and it is feared that it will be necessary to turn a large number of persons away, so great will be the demand for tickets.

Many are the surmises that are being made as to the identity of "The Fashion Plate," a feature entertainer who is being kept under cover. Either Happy nor Bill Lang will give any information concerning this performer, but smile tantalizingly when questioned.

They will only admit that "The Fashion Plate" is a "wonder," and then they hurry away.

There will be a cabaret show from 10 p. m. until 4 a. m., while there will be dancing from 9 p. m. until 2 a. m. in the upper hall. "Alexander the Great" will furnish the music for the dancers, while Miss Margaret Scollins and Harry Mulloy will show how the up-to-the-minute dances should be done.

Esther Ray, Billy Gleason, Billy Murray, Sophine Bennett, Delia Tuttle, the Feist Entertainers, Abel Baer Ray, Victor Viverion, Jack Ewart, Zarita, Helen Roberts and Jennie Quinn will be on hand in the cabaret hall and should furnish a merry entertainment.

SLEEPING SICKNESS IN WISCONSIN TOWN

By International News Service.

Oconto, Wis., March 2.—Sleeping sickness has developed here. Miss Dora Henderson, the victim of the longest sleep on record in Wisconsin, has recovered. Five others have suffered from the same mysterious complaint and three died.

Miss Henderson slept for seventeen days, with only one day of consciousness between her two long naps. She has been declared out of danger.

The first sufferer was Harold Bodie. He slept five days and was artificially fed, while asleep, till death claimed him. Two others slept four days and died.

ASK BROOKLINE SCHOOLS BE MADE SAFE

Building Commissioner Ernest Lyon of Brookline, in the annual report of the Brookline Selectmen, declares that the law in regard to school buildings should be changed, and that the erection of any building for more than two families, except apartments of first class construction, should be prohibited.

The commissioner states that the first floor of school buildings should be of fireproof construction throughout and the basement stairs surrounded with fire-proof walls and with fire-doors.

As a result of proposed changes to be made in the Brookline High School, the building will fall below the standard, according to Superintendent of Schools George I. Aldrich of that town in his annual report.

The School Committee at the town meeting last March recommended an appropriation of $200,000 to make additions and alterations, as the high school was inadequate to care for its pupils. A special committee to which the matter was referred recommended an appropriation of $110,000, in place of the School Committee recommendation.

In his report Superintendent Aldrich regrets the recommendations of the School Committee were not adopted, and says economy and efficiency can be carried too far.

QUINCY MEN WAIT EMPLOYERS' WORD

Three or four thousand granite men who went on strike in Quincy yesterday are waiting hopefully for the results of a meeting to be held tonight by the Granite Manufacturers' Association. The men elected a strike committee and are prepared to discuss terms. The difficulty between the men and manufacturers relates to the length of a new trade agreement; the men asking for a five-year contract and the manufacturers desiring four years.

D'ANNUNZIO MUST LOSE HIS RIGHT EYE

By International News Service.

Rome, March 2.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, the famous poet, is doomed to suffer the loss of his right eye, according to Professor Orlandini, who has been attending the poet at Venice. D'Annunzio is ignorant of this fact, and has told his friends here that he will soon recover.

Professor Orlandini said the poet's injury consisted of a large break in the eye's retina caused by a too rapid descent in an aeroplane.

NOSTRILS AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD? TRY MY CATARRH BALM

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely; Dull Headache Goes; Nasty Catarrhal Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle, anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertisement.

SOUND LINES OFFICIAL HITS AT DIVORCE FROM NEW HAVEN

J. Howland Gardner, vice-president of the New England Steamship Company, which operates the Sound boat lines of the New Haven Railroad, compared the numerous transportation facilities of New Haven sponge today at the final session of the Boston hearing ... Haven's petition to be allowed to retain the Sound lines.

The spongy comparison was because the transportation lines absorb traffic so quickly.

Mr. Gardner was asked a series of hypothetical questions by H. La Rue Brown, counsel for the Department of Justice, assuming that the New Haven and its Sound lines were divorced and that independent boat lines were started. The questions seemed aimed at showing whether competition would then exist. Mr. Gardner admitted that the New Haven and the independent boat lines would try to get all the business each one could.

Special Examiner John Howell, who has been conducting the hearing at the Boston Chamber of Commerce building for the Interstate Commerce Commission, goes to Providence tonight, to begin hearings there tomorrow.

TRAFFIC ABSORBED.

Mr. Gardner was cross-examined today by Messrs. Elder and Brown. At the New York conference Mr. Gardner said New England was saturated with transportation facilities. Today Mr. Elder took up that remark.

Q.—to eat dig you mean when you used the word "saturated." A.—If you will look at the map you will see that transportation lines connect the whole district and absorb traffic like a sponge.

Q.—You heard Chairman Macleod of the Massachusetts Public Service Commission make the statement that he connected the fact disputing that revenues of the Sound lines had not increased in recent years. What have you to say to that. A.—I have no definite information on that.

Mr. Brown offered his series of hypothetical questions to Mr. Gardner on the prospect of competition between the New Haven and possible independent lines. Mr. Brown said:

SEES COMPETITION.

"I ask you to credit these assumptions; that the New Haven road sold these steamship lines to a set of men not connected or affiliated with the New Haven road; that it sold the Hartford & New Haven Transportation line; that no changes in operation or personnel were made except such as were compelled by outside powers, and that the New Haven road continued to be operated as efficiently as it is now. I ask you, as an expert, whether you think that the New Haven road would try to carry all its present business by rail?

"Yes, I think it would," replied Mr. Gardner.

"And do you think that the independent Sound line would try to get all the business it could?"

"It certainly would," the witness answered.

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost if you get from your druggist a package of cantharis and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that make arranging it a pleasure.—Advertisement.

Program for the Actors' Benefit Is Announced

When Daniel Frohman, president of the Actors' Fund of America, under whose personal auspices the mammoth benefit performance will be given at the Hollis Street Theatre tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, left for New York, it had been practically settled through his conference with Lawrence McCarty, stage director of the benefit performance, and T. H. Lothian, the business manager, just what features among the avalanche of volunteers could be accepted and still come within the time limits of a long program. It may now be definitely announced that the following features will be included:

Lou-Tellegen, recently married to Geraldine Farrar, appearing with his company in the second act of "A King of Nowhere," in which he appears at the Shubert Theatre next week; Henry Miller and Ruth Chatterton and members of their "Daddy Long Legs" company in Clyde Fitch's one-act comedy, "Probably Lonesome"; George MacFarlane and company, in scenes from "The Heart of Jo Hanbury"; Georgie O. Ramie, "The Discontented Lulu," Hazel Cox and the Clancy Girls in the song hit, "Kitty Clancy," and Freddy Nice and Ada May Weeks in "The Overpup Walkaround" from "Around the Map"; William Hodge, in a special act; members of "It Pays to Advertise" company in a new one-act play entitled "Compromised"; Charles Ruggles and Harrison Ford of "Rolling Stones" company in a dramatic sketch entitled "The House of Russell"; the Craig players in a scene from "The Circus Girl"; features acts from the Keith and Orpheum theatres, and a special feature from New York. The advance sale of seats has been the largest ever known for one of these benefit performances.

SHOW FLASHLIGHTS TO PROVE ROBBERY

Eight flashlights formed "Exhibit A" against David Barry when he was charged in South Boston District Court today with breaking into Albert E. Black's general store at No. 669 East Broadway on Tuesday night and stealing fifteen flashlights. The flashlights were found in Barry's room, according to the police. Barry was held in $300 for the grand jury and was fined $10 for smashing a pinball machine on West Broadway one way and assaulting William O. Barr, cashier, the same night. He appealed.

AMERICANS IN PERIL FROM DIAZ MEN

By International News Service.

El Paso, Tex., March 2.—Anti-American feeling is becoming intense in Mexico. It is reported that a number of citizens of the United States in the southern part of the Republic are in danger of losing their lives as a result of the new uprising, headed by General Felix Diaz. This antagonism against the United States is particularly strong on the part of the Villaistas and the Zapatistas.

A traveler who has just arrived here states that twenty Americans, including seven women, are in danger of death at El Oro, State of Mexico. The Americans are accused of helping Carranza forces capture the town and Zapata raiders are gathering in great force to attack El Oro, declaring they will put every inhabitant to death.

It is learned from an authentic source that General Felix Diaz has received aid from the Guatemalan government and that arms are being supplied to the followers of Diaz through Guatemala.

DEADLOCK IN COAL MEN'S CONFERENCES

New York, March 2.—Deadlocked in their wage conference the anthracite operators and miners representing Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania adjourned last night at noon until tomorrow. On account of the strong stand taken by both sides there were evidences that a recess might be taken for several days to allow the miners and operators to hold caucuses among themselves.

HENRY FORD NOT IN PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Detroit, March 2.—Henry Ford has announced that he is not to be seriously considered as a Republican candidate for President.

"I do not want anything to do with politics or political offices," said Mr. Ford. "The three of my name at Lansing was a joke."

Nevada, Biggest U.S. Battleship, at the Navy Yard

The dreadnought Nevada, just completed at the Fore River Works, arrived at the Charlestown Navy Yard today under her own power, and it is the hands of a crew of Fore River employes.

Several busy days awaiting, she was berthed on the west side of Pier 3 at the yard, and there she will remain, for two or three weeks to receive general furnishings. A navy crew will go aboard her next week, but she will be formally placed in commission.

After preparation here she will go to Rockland to receive her light cruising gear and torpedoes, and then will go on the trial course off Rockland for speed and standardization tests.

Fail to Arouse Girl, Asleep for Days in Hospital

Fannie Girsman, noted for her sleeping fits which vary from several days to three weeks, is still unconscious at the Cambridge Hospital. The girl went to sleep on the sidewalk at Mt. Auburn and Boylston streets on Tuesday evening. She was finally taken to the hospital, where she has slept continuously since.

The H. O. Lacy of Cambridge says Miss Girsman is suffering from a form of hysteria, but nevertheless her condition is puzzling the doctors. The girl lies in bed with her eyes wide open, and cannot find when it is offered, but seems unconscious.

About a year ago she had a long sleep in her home in the West End. While living in Rhinebeth, N. J., several years ago, she went to sleep for several weeks. About two weeks ago she went to sleep while on a trolley car.

MAN IS FINED $100 FOR NON-SUPPORT

Frederick M. Beckett of Cambridge, was fined $100 in the Somerville court today for non-support of his children, Ronald and Estelle. His wife has sued him for divorce. He appealed and was held in $300.

COLEMAN ALONE IN INQUIRY AT DEER ISLAND

Disregarding the absence of his fellow members, Councillor George W. Coleman today began a single-handed investigation of conditions at Deer Island.

Councillor Coleman was the only member of the investigating committee of the City Council to appear at Deer Island last night. Whose whose identity is unknown is said to have telephoned the other members that the trip to Deer Island would not be made because of the storm.

Accompanied by newspapermen, Councillor Coleman went to Deer Island, where the office of Assistant Penal Commissioner George H. Sheehan was turned over to him. He immediately began to interview prisoners in private, the newspapermen being barred.

It is understood that Penal Commissioner Shaw is considering having Billy Sunday address the prisoners at Deer Island when he comes to Boston.

Commissioner Shaw said today that he would not object to a speech by Sunday, provided the three chaplains on the island, Rev. George E. Stokes, Rev. James J. O'Connor, S. J., and Rabbi Aaron Gorvitz, it is said that they have no objections.

FEARS MISSING SON HAS GONE TO WAR

Mrs. Minnie A. Chernoff of No. 18 Smith avenue, Somerville, reported to the police today that her son, Bernard S. Chernoff, seventeen, left home September 28 and that she had heard nothing from him since. She feared he had enlisted in the English army.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS HOLD PARTY TONIGHT

The Catholic Knights of America are to hold their annual whist and dancing party in Dahlgren Hall, South Boston, this evening. The reception committee comprises Thomas F. Mahoney and Mabelle Collaris, Mrs. James D. Robinson, D. David P. Hayes and Agnes Collins.

APPROVE PENSION OF CHIEF MADISON

Mayor Curley today approved the retirement of District Chief John E. Madison of Fire District No. 4, because of injuries received in the performance of his duty. Chief Madison was formerly stationed at Bulfinch street, was injured while on his way to a Cambridge street fire on January 6, 1916, when his automobile collided with another machine. Fire Marshal Pierce stated that he was permanently incapacitated for work, and he was retired on half pay. He has a wife and two children.

REJECT PLAN TO REINSTATE BRETT

Deputy Master James H. Burke is making good in his new position at Deer Island and will eventually become master, according to a statement made today by Mayor Curley. The Mayor also said that the Civil Service Commission had selected a man to permanently fill the position of Master, who was removed from Deer Island by the Mayor for political reasons. The plan was to reinstate Burke for one day and give him an honorable discharge, so that his standing would be all right when he wished to obtain another position.

ARENAS GO OVER 4 TO 2

Great Work in Net by N. Small Causes Rout of Harvard Club —Synott and Sequin Shine

ONE Normal Small, brother of Irving Small, the Arena Hockey Club's veteran point, did more than almost any other member of the seven to win the game from Harvard Club last night.

While Arena triumphed, four goals to two, if Small had not been in the net goodness only knows what the score might have been. All told, Small had twenty-five stops to his credit.

Shot after shot the big goal tender turned off, and the two occasions on which Harvard Club did get the puck past him just figured more than anything else in the actual scoring. Both times Small was out of the net and either wholly or partially off his feet.

Whereas the last Arena-Harvard Club game was a romp for the St. Botolph players, last night's contest was materially closer. At that, there wasn't an abundance of real good hockey in the game, but in spots the Arena players shone as brilliantly as usual. However, their work was far from consistent.

Scoring started just after five minutes had been played when "Patsey" Sequin and "Red" Synott took the puck down the ice. The former passed to Synott, who feinted, then turned and shot it backhanded into the net. Inside another twenty-three seconds "Pop" Conley and Roach went down and a fine pass to "Mickey" resulted in his tallying the second goal for his team.

PLANT JUICE WAS VERY WONDERFUL

Waltham Man, Employe of B. & A. Ry., Says Plant Juice Cured Him.

"The principal reason that the fame of Plant Juice has spread like wildfire throughout the country is because everyone who has tested it, or has seen what it will do, has a good word for it, and never misses an opportunity to speak it," said the Plant Juice Man, who has his headquarters at the Plant Juice Company's store, corner of Washington and Avon Streets, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

"The history of Plant Juice, the way in which the manufacturers first made it, and the great events that followed, have been the subject of numerous newspaper articles throughout America," continued the Plant Juice Man. "The story is an interesting one and I always like to tell it, but just now something more to the point. Plant Juice has become introduced into the State of Massachusetts and has already established a great name in Boston, where it is reviving and revitalizing hundreds of people in all walks of life. That this statement is true, it is only necessary to listen to the testimonials of local people who have given Plant Juice a trial.

"For instance, the signed statement of Mr. F. H. Burgess, who resides at No. 124 Charles Street, Waltham, and is employed as brakeman on the Boston & Albany R. R., was recently received. Mr. Burgess has many friends socially as well as in railroad circles and is a man of the utmost honor and integrity. He states:

"For over a year I have suffered terribly with my stomach. I could not eat and all the food I did eat would sour in my stomach and I was all bloated up with gas, and a pain or lump in the pit of my stomach and pains all through my body. I never could get any sleep at night and had awful headaches in the morning. I became so weak I did not know what to do to find relief, as I had tried all kinds of medicines and they did not do me any good. My mother urged me to take Plant Juice, and to please me I got a bottle and started to take it. The change it made in me was certainly wonderful as it has cured my stomach trouble and I never felt so well in my life. I owe Plant Juice this public statement and am glad to give it."—Advertisement.

Braves Off for Miami
Board Midnight Train

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

BOSTON'S first baseball contingent, Southward bound, leaves the South Station half an hour after midnight tonight on the first lap of the journey to Miami, Fla.

Business Manager Walter E. Hapgood heads the delegation, which includes Pitcher George Tyler, Catcher Ricco, Infielder Lee, Photographer Bill Somers, Trainer Jimmy Neary and his assistant, "Silent" Jones, and six writers.

At Providence Outfielder Joe Connolly hops aboard the rattler, and thus the party will journey to New York. In the big town the whole bunch treks to the Breslin, where the rest of the squad will assemble, and at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon they board a Savannah bound boat on the second lap of the big journey. At 3:45 Sunday morning they leave Savannah for Miami, and arrive in that city Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock.

Meanwhile, a big party of players will assemble at Macon, Ga., and from that point make tracks for the Southern camp, arriving there ahead of the squad which starts from this city. Hapgood will separate from the party in New York and proceed to Macon by rail, arriving there Saturday night at 8 o'clock, and leaving the same night at 11 for Jacksonville with the Southern and Western contingent.

WORK STARTS WEDNESDAY.

Manager Stallings does not contemplate any real work before next Wednesday, inasmuch as a majority of those who make the trip from New York by water are apt to suffer more or less from mal de mer. Wednesday the entire party will unquestionably be out on Little Braves Field working with might and main to whip itself into shape for the coming campaign.

When the Boston party finally gathers with the rest of the bunch in New York, Maranville, the Shannons, Maurice and Joe; Sherwood Magee, "Dick" Rudolph, Eddie Pitzpatrick and Edgar Collins will have joined it. After breakfast and luncheon at the Breslin, the trip to Brooklyn will be made, and there the Savannah line boat boarded. It is a known fact that the trip to Savannah by water is not at all pleasing to some of the ball players, as well as others, who will be in the party.

"Bill" Somers, the official photographer, will not make the trip by water, but will instead make a trip from New York to Jacksonville by rail, and there join the party which leaves Macon. In Jacksonville he will make pictures and forward them to Boston, with the result that Boston fans will have their first glimpse of Ed Konetchy as a Brave some time ere he has actually got busy on the diamond at Miami.

GUY GREGG WON'T REPORT.

At the office of the club yesterday word was officially received from Guy Gregg, a young pitcher, who formerly was with Terre Haute, in company with Art Nehf, that he would not join the Braves this year. Gregg, who was highly recommended, has informed the club officials that he has decided to quit baseball.

While news will be a trifle disappointing to Manager Stallings, for on receiving the records of the youngster while with Terre Haute, Stallings formed a high opinion of his ability, the fact that Gregg has decided to quit baseball for a time will be welcomed by Bostonians that Gregg was even a better pitcher than he himself. It is said Nehf's pessimistic views on Gregg was signed to a Boston contract.

After the squad finally gathers in Miami it will devote the greater portion of five weeks to training work there or in Florida resorts close at hand. The Athletics are to be played, and in addition the Cubans are figured that the club will clash with Brooklyn and possibly Cincinnati and other major league clubs who will train in that section.

After their leave Miami their first stop on the journey North will be at Rocky Mount, N. C., for a game with the team in that city. From Richmond, Va., is next visited, and the third stop is at Baltimore. From Baltimore the team moves on to Washington, and after two games in Washington continues to New York, and there either practices or plays until Fordham until the league season opens against Brooklyn at Brooklyn.

BONUS MUST BE DRILLED.

This year Stallings is confronted with the task of once more whipping an infield into shape. Whereas during the past two Spring seasons he has had a comparatively easy time getting Schmidt, Evers, Maranville and "Red" Smith working smoothly, this year he has a new cog to fit into the wheel in the person of Big Ed Konetchy.

Though Edgar Collins has had plenty of experience playing the initial bag for Fred Clarke's Pittsburgh clubs, he is due to absorb considerable knowledge once he gets working with Stallings. This also holds true of Konetchy, Snodgrass, Kreitz, Allen and any of the newcomers who have had major league experience.

Stallings works his men differently than does a majority of the other big league managers during the training period, and these men are due to note the difference at the outset. However, old-timers like Evers and Magee survived the Stallings system at Macon, and the newcomers certainly should be able to do so.

This season Stallings will be without the capable assistance of Fred Mitchell at the camp, and the greater portion of the work of preparing the young pitchers will devolve upon "Hunk" Gowdy—that is, unless a new coach is acquired before the squad breaks camp. In other years Mitchell did the bulk of work in the direction of coaching pitchers, and he will unquestionably be missed.

EARLY ONES AT HADDOCK.

During the past week or so Manager Stallings has had Nehf, Hughes, Regan, Gowdy and Evers at his farm in Haddock, Ga., getting in a little preliminary work. The quartet will in all probability arrive at Miami with a slight edge on the others. Consequently, the hitters should be able to get some good batting practice within the first week they are at camp.

If Hughes, Nehf and Regan be able to throw benders up as well as 60 odd straight ones that single, there can be no complaint from the batters that they haven't seen enough consistent pitching to get hitting good. Report for the Tufts team and Allston's vanquished, it made the Crimson yearlings tinsle hard for supremacy. Captain De Lazzio, Hathaway and Burnham won for Harvard, while Captain Bingeri scored for Tufts in the 158-pound class. Kirschen (B) and May (T) drew in the 125-pound class final, but neither could get the delegate bouts in Hemenway Gym Saturday.

HARVARD '19 TAKES MEET FROM TUFTS

Harvard Freshmen defeated Tufts 29 to 6 in the wrestling meet staged in Goddard Gym at Tufts yesterday afternoon. The match was the first for the Tufts team, and although vanquished, it made the Crimson yearlings tinsle hard for supremacy. Captain De Lazzio, Hathaway and Burnham won for Harvard, while Captain Bingeri scored for Tufts in the 158-pound class. Kirschen (B) and May (T) drew in the 125-pound class final, but neither could get the delegate bouts in Hemenway Gym Saturday.

B. C. BANQUET WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT

The "Athletic Night" and banquet, which the students and alumni of Boston College intend to render to football team, and which has been postponed twice, will be held tonight at the Quincy House. Coach Bill Sweeney of the baseball team and Coach Steve Mahoney of last Fall's football team will be the principal speakers. It is expected that much of the football coach will be announced during the evening.

EXETER BASEBALL CARD.

Exeter, N. H., March 2.—Manager Percy R. Trouche, Jr., is out with Exeter's baseball schedule. The dates:

April 22, Morris Heights School, Exeter; April 26, Lowell Textile, Exeter; April 28, Yale '20, Exeter; May 3, Dean Academy, Exeter; May 5, Princeton '20, Exeter; May 10, Cushing Academy, Exeter; May 13, Harvard '20, Cambridge; May 17, Holy Cross '19, Exeter; May 27, open; May 31, Hindge Tech, Exeter; June 2, Andover, Andover.

THE RABBITS' COLUMN

Walter J. Mayerville

HORTSTOP OF THE BRAVES

Will Benny Kauff get that $10,000? This is something that interests three people—Benny, President Hempstead and Mr. Sinclair. The public is tiring of Benny's yell for money.

Still silence upon Tris Speaker's contract and the Joe Wood matter. These players will find a solution at Hot Springs. It is like repeating a twice told tale.

Reports from Hot Springs tell of a cold wave. The World's Champions do not get there as a full squad until March 19, so the climate may be more kind by that time. Last year the Cyprian crowd ran into very bad weather and became champions. They should worry.

* * *

Fred is pulling hard for the Braves, but does not talk as if he intended to take up scouting after the college season closes. He has a fine farm at Stow, a machine to enjoy the rides in now, and is pretty strong for the benches.

* * *

"Wild Bill" Donovan is sending his men on a jog around the mile track at Macon, as a finishing touch to their training. "Bill" is very much in earnest. He sees a first division club, sure, and figures added strength may give him a fighting chance. He has a corps of wise old owls to keep the boys in—Joe Kelley, Charley Farrell and "Germany" Schaefer.

* * *

Roger Bresnahan is the dandy little fixer on contracts. He probably has had more experience settling with owners of ball clubs on the subject of long-term agreements than most men. Each time he has received quite a substantial amount for his share, or in consideration of the fact that he agreed to go elsewhere. With the money he is to collect from Chicago he will probably invest in the Cleveland (American Association) Club, and again become a player-manager.

* * *

Vincent Campbell will be quite a card for the Brown Sox this season. He is a native of the Mound City.

* * *

Coach Fred Mitchell has looked over his material as thoroughly as he can under the "rage" conditions, and speaks very hopefully of Harvard's chances to beat Yale this Spring. He figures that Spring should have an early opening here, and that the deep snow which has covered the field will have helped conditions.

* * *

This is the last effort of mine in the way of a "column" until I arrive at the camp at Miami. Then I may be able to send the AMERICAN some live notes and gossip of the Braves.

Willard Wants More Sparring Partners

New York, March 2.—Jess Willard wants four more sparring partners. The big champion wants to do more boxing in preparation for his coming match with Frank Moran. He feels that with only two men to spar with they are not sufficient to withstand the heavy sledge-hammer blows the champion showers on his partners.

An incident of this kind resulted when one of the champion's blows put Walter Monahan down for the count. The champion knows he carries "too much weight," and with the fight a little over three weeks off he wants to get all the preparation he can.

Despite the snowstorm during the night, Willard did not forego his usual brisk walk around Central Park. He then went to his training quarters and went through the usual paces.

There are many admirers of the big champion who believe that Willard should go out in the country and train for the fight. They point out that Moran is hardening himself up at Saratoga Lake, and figure that Jess should get away from the glamor of city life in order to be in the best of physical condition, even if the fight is only ten rounds.

GET-AWAY DAY FOR BRAVES

JOHN W. MORAN, JR., will accompany the former world champions to Miami, Florida, and will describe in detail their camp life doings.

HERMAN NICKERSON, baseball expert, will be a member of the Red Sox party at Hot Springs and will give the New England fans first-hand stories of the Carrigan clan.

NASH TENDERED A ST. PAUL CONTRACT

State Representative Kenneth Nash yesterday received a contract from the St. Paul (American Association) club to which outfit he was transferred during the Winter by the Cardinals. Nash returned the document, as he did not consider it properly drawn up. He has not made up his mind whether or not he is going to play ball the coming Summer, but if he decides to stay in the game states the St. Paul berth will suit him.

WOODLAND PLAYER STAR

Pinehurst, N. C., March 2.—C. H. Becker, Woodland, and R. F. Merriman, Waterbury, were the only New Englanders surviving the first round of match play in the annual Spring golf tournament.

'COWBOY' WESTON IS WINNER IN TOURNEY

Chicago March 2.—In the national pocket billiard championship tournament Charles (Cowboy) Weston of Chicago an added starter, defeated J. L. Chapman, also of Chicago, 100-40; Ralph won from Greenleaf, 100-46; Layton disposed of Blankenship, 100-38, and Concannon flayed Tanerski, 100-61.

O'DONNELL SLATED TO COACH PERDUE U.

Cleo O'Donnell is slated to be appointed Perdue University's football coach.

He is down to meet Oliver Cutts in New York Saturday and has come to an agreement as to all terms.

Mark for Tigers, But Columbia Takes Meet

Princeton, N. J., March 2.—Columbia defeated Princeton in their dual swimming meet, 28-25, and tied Yale for first place in the Intercollegiate League. Vollmer won 50 and 100-yard dashes and went to a dead heat with Lee, a teammate, in the 220-yard event. Presnell won the fancy dive for the Tigers. Levy first annexed the plunge, while Princeton took the relay. Its time, 1 minute 44 2-5 seconds, breaks Yale's intercollegiate record, made in 1914, by three-fifths of a second.

PEABODY LOST TO ARLINGTON SEVEN

Clinton Peabody, captain of the Arlington High hockey team, has quit school and will miss the game with Melrose High at the Arena tomorrow night. With the winner to play Newton for the title, Peabody's loss is almost bound to be felt by Arlington High. Still, the team is noted for its pluck and may land in front even with Peabody an absentee.

AH! YOU HAVE BROUGHT HOME AN ARMY OFFICER TO DINNER - I'M SORRY I'M GOING OUT NOW!
YES - THIS IS MAJOR SHIRTS - HE GOIN' TO EXPLAIN TO ME ABOUT THE BULLETS USED IN THE WAR!
YOUR HUSBAND IS VERY STUDIOUS
MAY I ASK WHAT THAT IS BEFORE I GO?
IT'S A SHRAPNEL SHELL - I BELIEVE IN "PREPAREDNESS" AT HOME!
I'M GOING TO GIVE YOUR HUSBAND A LESSON IN THE USE OF THIS SHELL!
SHE'S GONE - NOW EXPLAIN
YOU SEE - IT COMES APART - THIS END IS A COCKTAIL SHAKER AND THE OTHER END CONTAINS CLASSES!
NO ONE WOULD EVER SUSPECT IT WAS ANYTHING BUT AN ORDINARY SHELL -
SAY - DO YOU THINK I COULD GIT ONE OF THE SANDY HOOK GUNS MADE UP LIKE THAT?

WILLARD DEALT KAYO

Quaffs Too Much Water After Morning Run and Feels Bad Rest of the Day.

By JESS WILLARD, Heavyweight Champion Pugilist of the World.

NEW YORK, March 2—When I arose at 6:30 yesterday morning everything looked rosy. After dressing and looking over the papers, I got Walter Monahan and Jack Hemple to accompany me on a jaunt around the reservoir in Central Park.

There were few people in sight as we jogged along and this gave us an opportunity to break into sharp little sprints.

That was all right, but when we returned to the hotel I made the mistake that catches nearly every man that ever trained. I wanted to drink all the water handy, for, believe me, I was thirsty.

Well, I drank and drank and then prepared for a rubdown, just enough to brush up my flesh. The rubdown felt pretty good, so about 9:30 we sat down to a good breakfast, something which I generally enjoy. About 11 o'clock I began to realize that water is all right providing you don't drink too much.

WATER KNOCKS HIM OUT.

I began to feel queer around my stomach and sharp pains shot through me. Now cramps are not the most dangerous things in the world, but right now I will say they're about the most annoying.

When I told Tom Jones and the boys what was troubling me do you think they offered any sympathy? Not the slightest. They just looked me over and asked me about the system of moderation I preach so much about. Not caring to stay around and give those fellows a chance to laugh, I went to my room, flopped into the bed and wrapped myself up in blankets.

About noon I felt better and nibbled at a little lunch, and it seemed to me as if the others ate more than usual just to make me feel bad.

Well, I kept nursing my stomachache until it was time to start for the Pioneer Club. About 1:30 we piled into the automobile and drove to the clubhouse. I didn't feel very much like work and told the boys to cut out tossing the medicine ball.

PULLS TAME MATINEE.

You know, stopping a medicine ball is about the way I did Iast's a pleasing job. However, I went through the usual shadow sparring. I must add, though, that it didn't seem as easy as on former days.

Then I put on the big gloves and sparred two rounds with Hemple. Jack made many efforts to wallop me right where it pained, just as an object lesson against drinking too much water. Luckily he wasn't able to get in any blows as he desired. Monahan took up hostilities when Hemple finished his five rounds.

Now Walter looks after me like a hen after her chicks, so I knew I was in for it, for he always does putting the curb on me when I feel like eating or drinking too much water. Well, Walter suddenly shot out his left to my jaw and, to make sure it landed, hopped in into the air.

I saw it coming and out popped my right. I landed right on Walter's chin and he just flopped to the floor. It was quite a relief to see him get right up and endeavor to stick one in the breadbasket to get even. It's a funny thing, but this was the second time in my career that I knocked down a sparring partner

SAME THING AT HAVANA.

In Havana I happened to catch Jerry Sweeney off his guard and he did a quick Brodie. It may be thrilling to a crowd to see a man drop his partner but it isn't "classy," to my way of thinking.

After I finished the bouts I did a little work which tends to strengthen my legs and I was ready for bed early enough. I kind of feared that the folks who watched me train could see that I wasn't myself and I guess they were almost as glad as I when I made my little bow.

After a rubdown, Hemple made me take a big dose of castor oil, and if I ever drink too much water again I hope he will increase the dose; in fact, I know he will.

The Blows That Win Fights

By JESS WILLARD.

Don't miss this great exclusive in next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN. The titleholder, who is now training for his bout with Frank Moran in New York, March 25, will give the inside facts on how he won the championship.

WILLARD'S ARTICLES APPEAR EXCLUSIVELY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN.

YOUNG SAYLOR HAS SURVIVED CRISIS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 2. Lightweight Milburn (Young) Saylor has successfully passed the crisis and getting over the attack of pneumonia which it was feared early in the week would prove fatal. It is now reported that unless a setback should develop he will recover.

BOXING BRIEFS and GOSSIP

IT is Nick Murray's forecast that next week's main number at the Hip, Johnny Howard of Bayonne, N. J., vs. "Sailor" Grande of California, aspirants for the middleweight crown, will please.

NEITHER chap has been seen in action in Boston. In their one clash, staged in Philadelph a they are reported to have pleased.

THE rest of the Triple-A cards: Al Reddy of Chelsea vs. Tommy McFarland, eight rounds; Teddy Murphy vs. Steve Phillips, six rounds; Young Brusso vs. John Camp, six rounds.

LARNEY LICHTENSTEIN writes the AMERICAN from Chicago stating that Lightweight Joe Welling, the present star of stable, is stepping his fastest right now and wants to bring him to Boston.

"MIAH MURRAY should not blame me for Ad Wolgast's conduct in running out on the Atlas A. A. last Summer," states Larney. "I was innocent, honestly. Welling has just got through whipping Saylor, Marto, Sherman and Brown among other good boys and I am sure he will deliver in Boston, if given the chance."

EDDIE MURPHY, the South Boston welterweight, who figures he stepped at a very so-so clip in his scrap with Walter Mohr at the B. M. A. A. last Friday night, hooks up with "Dick" Stosh at Lowell tomorrow night. Stosh beat Murphy at Lawrence a few weeks ago, but this trip Eddie is confident he will reverse the decision.

FRANKIE NELSON should leave the game alone until his bum left eye heals. With it easy to open he cannot do himself justice; or boxing any good.

IF Yelle stands in first place among New England's crop of lightweights, the division has been all shot to pieces for fair. His allround performance Tuesday night was but fair at best

ALEC McLEAN should get busy with Gilbert Gallant. The Chelsea boy, if getting in any form at all, should have a snap cleaning up in the class.

AL McMURRAY, who had Nelson on display at the Hip Tuesday night, will be back tomorrow night with "Italian Joe" Gans, the Brooklyn welterweight, who mixes with Joe Eagan at the B. M. A. A.

McMURRAY claims L. J. Gans is a fine wire. For all that it looks as if Eagan will be installed the betting choice.

BARNEY SNYDER and Sammy Sterns, who generally deliver, will hook up in the semi-windup.

JOE O'ROURKE has matched Johnny Lore, one of his high steppers, for a go with Walter Butler at Woonsocket next Tuesday night. He also reports that Johnny Donovan is to go on with the best 122-pounder obtainable at Thornton, R. I., next Wednesday night.

F. R., New Bedford: 1—B would have to make limit of division in order to win title. 2—If Moran knocks out Willard he will not have a weight champion. It is supposed to be a no-decision affair but a knockout would give Moran the title.

POGGENBERG FLAYS LONDON CUE CRACK

New York, March 2.—J Fred Poggenberg defeated Jacob Klinger, Class B billiard champion of Europe, in the national amateur championship tournament, at the Arlington Billiard Club last night, 400-275. The winner's average of 11 15-26 is the best made thus far in the tournament. In the afternoon Morris D. Brown of Brooklyn defeated Edgar Appoby, 400-249.

N. E. Title Bouts to Be Decided on March 20

On Monday night, March 20, the annual New England A. A. A. U. championship boxing tournament will be held in Mechanics Building under B. A. A. auspices. George V. Brown, athletic manager of the B. A. A., has arranged for eight classes, ranging from the bantamweight to heavyweight

Conditions governing the different classes are the same as those which all amateur champions must fulfill. Entrance fees will be fifty cents for each man for each event and entries close March 13 with George V. Brown at the B. A. A. clubhouse. Even as early indications are that a record breaking entry list will be announced.

DAVE CALDWELL IN FRONT IN ELKS RACE

Paterson, N. J., March 2—Dave Caldwell, Boston A. A., won the 1,000-yard Derby, the feature event at the indoor games of the Paterson Boke, at the Fifth Regiment armory, after a hard struggle with Mike Devereaux, Melrose A. A. Sid Leslie, Long Island A. C. was third. Roy Moore won the 60-yard sprint in hollow style.

Basketball Notes

FREEMAN, who has been sporting the colors of several West End organizations and the Boston Five this season, is a promising player. He shines on a large floor.

MANAGER Sweeting of the Brophy Five has been trying his best to secure a ball to play a return game with the St. Alphonsus Association but to date his attempts have been futile. He came to us yesterday with a timely suggestion that this game would make a fine second attraction during the contest at St. John's Somerset series. This would, no doubt, be one of the evening's best entertainments that could be arranged.

ST. ALPHONSUS defeated the West Enders on their own court recently but the Brophys are confident that they can subjugate the Hoff And Blue team on a large floor They were handicapped by the small Roxbury court with its many posts.

TOOT BOWLES is one of the local players whose services are in demand this season, despite the poor opinion that the Mission Hill twirler has of the Brooklyn ball

DADDY LANE informs us that when his team plays their game in the St. Alphonsus Interclub series the fans of that section will see some good basket playing

BASEBALL BY WIRE

Detroit, March 2. President Navin of the Tigers reports that he has purchased Outfielder Ping Bodie of the Newark Feds.

Memphis, Tenn., March 2. Business Manager Le Mare of the Memphis Chicks announces the release of Pitchers Wyatt and Tillson to Infielder Wade and Pitcher Hall returned over to Memphis. Fielder Jones retains an option on Tillson.

South Bend, Ind., Mar. h 2—Outfielder Joe Stanley, formerly of the Washington Club, signed with the South Bend (Central League) club.

Pittsburgh, March 2—Pitchers Harper, Comstock and Herring, Catcher O'Connor and Infielder Savage have been unconditionally released by the defunct Pittsburgh (Federal League) club and sold to Ind thomasites John Wasshington, Tex., March 2—Outfielder Harry Coveleskie reported to Manager Jennings of the Tigers to-day.

San Antonio, Tex., March 2—Manager Hughes of the Cardinals has put the ban on cigars, cigarettes and pipes, except for limited periods during the day. Gambling of all kinds, even five-cent limit poker, is also prohibited.

PHAIR VIEWS ON SPORTS

SOMETIMES THEY DO.

He burned the leaky verdure in a Southern training camp;
His arm was like a watch spring and he had a batting fiend.
The baseball scribes all fell for him and said, "Another Cobb!
There is no man in baseball who can get that youngster's job!"

The baseball fans said, "Ancient dope!" and "Poof!" and likewise "Shush!"
Two months from now that youngster will be playing in the bush.
We read that nefarious story in the papers every Spring.
Why don't you hand us honest dope and can that sort of thing?

The youngster folded like a flash and wildly smote the ball;
He clouted all the Summer and he clouted in the Fall.
"I told you so," the fan remarked; "I knew that he'd make good."
The ball scribe smote a smile and said, "I never thought he would."

Judging the ability of a recruit in spring is much like judging the age of an egg. You have to pay for him before you are allowed to find out.

"Joe Steelier," says a wrestling expert, "is popular because he wins his bouts in a hurry." This has always been our contention. The shorter a wrestling match is the better we like it.

It will be several months before Cobb and Steelier meet on the mat. According to the rules of modern sport, a charge on the public must always be preceded by a bombardment of 42-centimeter press agents.

Frank Chance is going into bush league baseball in spite of the fact that he doesn't need the money. All of which shows that baseball is incurable.

LIFE'S MYSTERIES.

"Doc" Spear is wanted on the telephone.

THE RULING PASSION.

A pitcher had won seven games in a row.
But he wasn't light-hearted nor glad.
In fact, he was downcast and hardened with woe,
And his brow was all wrinkled and sad.

The next game they walloped him seven to three.
But his bosom was blithesome and gay:
"I know that they walloped me plenty," said he,
"But I made a two-bagger today."

Connie Mack is the most reliable prophet in baseball. He predicts that he will not win a pennant this season.

Aside from the misses, Connie Mack is the greatest bargain hunter in the universe. He can buy a $100,000 infield for $1.75.

Numbering football players is one step toward making them a thing of the past. The other one is the fact that the average player cannot afford a valet to keep the numbers clean

WAR BULLETIN.

Jess Willard has aroused the apprehensions of Madame Suzanne Lenglen after a preliminary bombardment of anxious gazes by Tom Jones. It is learned from efficient sources that 50,000 tons more have fallen and that fully 100,000 are expected to succumb before the battle is decided.

PIKERS.

(By Jess Willard)

I knock when I read they have taken
A regiment now and then.
For I, single-handed, can capture
An army of iron men."

O'CONNOR TO PILOT B. L.

Dave O'Conner, Boston Latin's crack end, was out by one vote over Frank Murphy in the election for next Fall's football captaincy.

Alex Aberg to Meet Ernesto to Finish at Hip

Alex Aberg to-day announced a match with Ernesto Roberto, a Portuguese wrestler, who is said to be a clever grappler. They will go to a finish, best two out of three falls.

Roberto is a powerful fellow, who likes to wrestle with his opponent on the floor, but Aberg, however, can take care of himself in any position.

In the semi-final Hans Furst is matched with Nicola Kaiser, a rapid fire grappler They will go to a finish best two out of three falls.

In the preliminaries will consist of contests in the open 158-pound class and in both Promoter George Tuohey reports there are several smashing entries

And he resumed his marching.

The Landlady's Pun

"What are you saying, Mr. Jones?" demanded the landlady, with a sharp glance at a grumbler. "Is there anything wrong?"

"There certainly is, madam!" was the peevish reply. "My napkin is damp."

"I presume," said she, "it is because there is so much dug on your board."

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were strong at noon in Boston and New York, there having been no reaction of consequence during the forenoon. While a number of issues were dealt in at good advances from yesterday's closing figures, the majority were up by fractions only. The bulk of the morning business was in the first hour. In the second trading slackened. At times it was exceedingly quiet.

Gains at 12 o'clock included Anaconda ¾, Chino ¾, Utah Copper ¼, Kennecott 1⅛, Atchison ¾, Baltimore & Ohio ¼, Canadian Pacific 1, Chesapeake & Ohio ¾, Lehigh Valley 1¼, N. Y. Central ¾, Northern Pacific ½, Southern Pacific ⅜, St. Paul ¼, Union Pacific ¾, American Can ¼, Car and Foundry ⅜, Baldwin 1¼, Mexican Petroleum ¼, Studebaker 2¼, Westinghouse ¼ and Pacific Mail 1. Prices were then below their highest morning level. There was profittaking at times.

Among declines were American Smelting ⅛, U. S. Steel ⅛, Tennessee Copper ¼, and Texas Co. 1⅛.

Gains in Boston included Alaska, Gold ⅛, American Woolen preferred ¾, common 1, Butte & Superior ⅜, American Zinc ⅛, Calumet & Arizona ½, Copper Range ¼, Granby ⅛, North Butte ¼, Old Dominion ½, Mohawk ½, United Fruit 1⅛, and Boston & Maine ½.

Among declines were Quincy ⅛, St. Mary 2¼, and U. S. Smelting ¼.

The Old Dominion Company of Maine, the holding company, has declared a quarterly dividend of $2.50 a share. Three months ago the assessment was $1.50 and fifty cents extra. The United Globe Mines has declared a dividend of $.15 a share, compared with $.12 three months ago. The dividend will go to the Old Dominion Company of Maine, which holds all the former corporation's outstanding shares.

OPENED HIGHER, CLIMBED MORE.

Stocks opened a little higher in New York and immediately climbed more. Initial gains by Lehigh Valley, Butte & Superior and Pressed Steel Car were a point or more. Later there were gains by Distillers, Baldwin, Studebaker and Industrial Alcohol from better than one to four points. There was demand for more industrials, coppers and railroads. The last named group was quiet. Confidence had improved over night because of war news. But there was still anxiety over the situation at Washington. It was a professional market, although claimed large financial interests have been buying standard stocks upon recessions. Uncertainty as to the international outlook made traders cautious as to commitments, but much of the strength of the market this morning is attributed to covering of short sales.

ZINCS ACTIVE AND STRONG.

At the start the Boston market was strong, but dull and narrow. For a few minutes after noon there was only feature. They were higher and active. There was some trading in U. S. Smelting, Ventura Oil, American Woolen and United Fruit. Coppers did not appear in numbers on the tape. There was not much business done locally during the first hour and the market was quiet in the second. It was strong all the morning.

STOPS TRADING IN METALS.

A London cablegram says: "Trading on the London Metal Exchange practically ceased today. By government request dealing in copper, tin, lead and spelter was suspended."

Another cablegram said the British Government had taken this action to prevent speculation. It has been proclaimed that metal must be in the seller's possession or in process of production, and that buying must be on the behalf of consumers. The only quotations from the exchange today were:

	spot on	...	£195—10s—0d	off £3—10s—0d
Futures tin		...	£185—15s—0d	off £3—10s—0d
Straits tin		...	£190—0s—0d	off £4—0s—0d

The London Metal Exchange may close if the committee which will visit the Minister of Munitions does not receive assurances that the government mandate. Exchange quotations have not of late, it is said, afforded an idea of the real value of the standard electrolytic copper. When spot was quoted at £138 a ton it sold at £142 10s.

CURED HIMSELF OF THE LIQUOR HABIT

A Missouri Man After Drinking for Thirty-five Years Banished His Craving for Liquor With a Simple Home Recipe.

Mr. Thos. J. O'Bannon, a well known resident of Missouri, living at R. F. D. No. 3, Fredericktown, Mo., banished his craving for liquor with a simple recipe which he mixed at home.

Mr. O'Bannon recently made the following statement: "I am 51 years old and had drank for thirty-five years. My craving was so great I could not quit liquor. More than a year ago I had the following simple recipe filled and began taking it and it entirely banished my craving for liquor. To 3 oz. of water add 20 grains of muriate of ammonia, a small box of Varlex Compound and 10 grains of Asepsin. Take a teaspoonful three times a day. Any druggist can mix it for you or supply the ingredients at very little cost. This recipe can be taken of your own accord or given to anyone secretly in coffee, tea, milk or in food, as it has no taste, color or smell and is perfectly harmless. I believe every inebriate can cure himself with this simple recipe."

BILLARD PAYS NEW HAVEN $1,250,000

By B. C. FORBES.

A new chapter is opening in high finance.

It is headed:

RESTITUTION!

Financiers who filched funds from corporations by dubious and devious methods of "financiering" are being forced to disgorge.

Thus Certain Rock Island directors have put their funds into their well-filled pockets and fished out $750,000 to be repaid to stockholders.

Similar moves have been started to regain for New York tax payers some of the thousands gaily dispersed by Interborough directors at the expense of the city.

And, now comes the news that the famous—infamous—John L. Billard dealt with the New Haven railroad has led to the restoration of $1,250,099 to the road's treasury.

* * *

On returning from Washington after having listened to the evidence given before the Interstate Commerce Commission, two years ago, I was asked by the editor-in-chief how the case looked.

My reply was:

"The Billard deal was one of the thing uncovered that promises to repay it up any money that is recovered. This is the only instance so far as I could judge where any director lined his own pockets. Nobody is likely to go to jail."

The whole Billard transaction was a subterfuge.

The New Haven could not legally hold Boston & Maine stock, under the laws of Massachusetts, and this stock was put into the name of the late John L. Billard Company until the law could be changed.

Billard was a coal dealer in Meriden, Ct., not a banker or financier. He was a friend of the ex-sourceful Mellen, who had learned to bamble all sorts of fences. To comply with the law, Billard "purchased" the stock—with money provided by the New Haven people. He put up no money of his own.

When the New Haven took back its Boston & Maine stock it paid some $2,700,000 more than it had received.

And Billard froze onto this money.

The directors wanted to know why the coal dealer should be thus enriched at the expense of the New Haven when he had not put up a penny to finance the little stratagem.

President Mellen was deputed to try his persuasive powers upon the not-rich-quick-Billard. He found the newly-made millionaire obdurate. He preferred to keep the coin. That he probably held the world's record for easily earned dividends and should not be especially pleasing to him. The role of millionaire will be much pleasanter than that of plain unadorned coal dealer.

So John L. Billard stood pat. Neither cajolery nor coercion could move him to part with the fortune a stroke of financial lightning had brought him.

The new management of the New Haven has now succeeded where Mellen failed.

Now comes the official announcement that the Billard Company had effected a settlement by repaying $1,250,000.

In my humble opinion Billard gets off cheaply.

The Billard deal was the rawest I have ever heard uncovered in any court in any land during the last 30 years' experience, much of it in courts.

No board of directors, I venture, would dare perpetrate such a scandal today.

We are reaching a higher level of financial morality.

Directors are learning they cannot play fast and loose with corporation treasuries.

They are finding stockholders have some rights—and that the courts are disposed to uphold those rights.

RAISE RISKS ON SHIPS FROM U. S.

By International News Service.

London, March 2—The new German submarine policy caused no panic at Lloyd's. The present tendency of insurance rates to harden will continued, however.

In respect to cargoes from America war risk rates were thirty shillings in British ships and twenty-five shillings in American vessels. Canadian ships twenty shillings and fifteen shillings per week ago. Cargoes by way of the Suez Canal were quoted at five guineas.

1,200 MACHINISTS IN BUFFALO STRIKE

Buffalo, N. Y., March 2—Twelve hundred machinists in Buffalo plants went on strike today. It is expected 1,800 more men will join the strikers. The demands are an eight-hour day, forty cents an hour minimum, time and a half for overtime, no piece or premium work and no Sunday work.

DO MR. WILSON'S INSPIRING WORDS HARMONIZE WITH MR. WILSON'S ACTS?

MR. WILSON'S letter to Senator Stone very clearly and very forcibly states the duty of the American government to protect its sovereign rights and the rights and property and the lives of its citizens on land and on sea.

If these sentiments applied to Germany are sound, which they are, and if these declarations addressed to Germany are just, which they are, then these sentiments and declarations must be universally sound and just and must apply to our relations with ALL countries.

Then they should be applied to our relations with England and with Mexico, as well as with Germany.

Germany should not be allowed to encroach upon our rights on the seas and England should not be allowed to encroach upon our rights on the seas.

Germany should not be allowed to murder Americans and neither should Mexico be allowed to murder Americans.

In other words, we should protect our sovereign rights and our national honor and our citizens' property and lives anywhere, everywhere, and at all times AGAINST ANY AND ALL NATIONS ALIKE.

There is no other honorable and fair course of conduct. There is no other patriotic course of conduct. And certainly there is no other course of conduct open to any man whose actions are based upon sincerity and honest conviction.

Has Mr. Wilson pursued this equal treatment of all aggressors upon our rights and honor? Let us compare Mr. Wilson's sound and just declarations with Mr. Wilson's course toward British aggressions upon our undoubted lawful rights upon the seas.

In his letter to Senator Stone, Mr. Wilson declares:

"BUT IN ANY EVENT OUR DUTY IS CLEAR. NO NATION, NO GROUP OF NATIONS, HAS THE RIGHT WHILE WAR IS IN PROGRESS TO ALTER OR DISREGARD THE PRINCIPLES WHICH ALL NATIONS HAVE AGREED UPON IN MITIGATION OF THE HORRORS AND SUFFERINGS OF WAR, AND IF THE CLEAR RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS SHOULD EVER UNHAPPILY BE ABRIDGED OR DENIED BY ANY SUCH ACTION, WE SHOULD, IT SEEMS TO ME, HAVE IN HONOR NO CHOICE AS TO WHAT OUR OWN COURSE SHOULD BE."

While this war has been in progress, England has "altered and disregarded" the express provisions of international law forbidding food supplies intended only for non-combatants to be declared contraband; has "altered and disregarded" the recognized principles of international law in regard to commerce between neutrals; has "altered and disregarded" the express declaration of international law which guarantees the inviolability of mails between neutral countries; has "altered and disregarded" EVERY IMPORTANT RULE of maritime international law laid down by the three Hague conferences and the Declaration of London, and has for now more than a whole year "abridged and denied the clear rights of American citizens" upon the high seas.

Why is not England, as well as Germany, peremptorily told that these aggressions upon "the clear rights of American citizens" must be stopped, if, under such circumstances, "we have in honor no choice as to what our own course should be"?

Mr. Wilson, in his letter to Senator Stone, declares:

"FOR MY OWN PART, I CANNOT CONSENT TO ANY ABRIDGMENT OF THE RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS IN ANY RESPECT. THE HONOR AND SELF-RESPECT OF THE NATION IS INVOLVED."

One of the important articles of commerce expressly exempted by international law from being declared absolute contraband is rubber. Today no American citizen can ship rubber to a neutral country or to any of the allied countries, except Great Britain, or can even buy and import for his own use IN HIS OWN COUNTRY any quantity at all of rubber without the PERMISSION OF A RESIDENT BRITISH AGENT. This happens in New York every day. It is a gross infringement of international law and a harsh aggression upon "the clear rights of American citizens."

What course in honor has Mr. Wilson pursued in this matter?

The express law of nations is that neutral ships bound for unblockaded neutral ports cannot be molested and confiscated, and yet during the past year American ships bound to unblockaded neutral ports in Sweden, Denmark, Holland and South America have been repeatedly SEIZED AND CONFISCATED, with a loss of many millions of dollars to the owners and shippers and to the FINAL DESTRUCTION OF AMERICAN SHIPPING TRADE WITH AMERICA'S FRIENDLY NEUTRAL CUSTOMERS ABROAD.

Why has Mr. Wilson consented to these "abridgments of the rights of American citizens" for more than a year of aggression and injury?

In his letter to Senator Stone, Mr. Wilson says:

"TO FORBID OUR PEOPLE TO EXERCISE THEIR RIGHTS FOR FEAR WE MIGHT BE CALLED UPON TO VINDICATE THEM WOULD BE A DEEP HUMILIATION INDEED!"

Yet American citizens are daily forbidden to exercise their rights of shipping goods of free voyage to neutral, friendly countries, and this very last week men have been arrested BY UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AGENTS for having prepared a shipment of rubber TO SWEDEN, though rubber is an article of free voyage by the declarations of The Hague and of London, and has been ILLEGALLY declared an article of contraband SINCE this war began—thus altering an international law in the midst of war.

So, too, our citizens are refused protection in their lawful right to ship wool and clothing and foodstuffs and oil and other products—not to Germany, but to NEUTRAL COUNTRIES WHICH ARE AT WAR WITH NOBODY.

The question naturally arises why this is not "a deep humiliation indeed"?

These instances—a very few among hundreds upon hundreds of like aggressions and wrongs unresented by Mr. Wilson—seem to show conclusively that he has one set of rules of conduct toward Germany and another set for use toward England, and the contention of this newspaper is now and always has been that an American President should uphold American rights AGAINST ANYBODY AND EVERYBODY ALIKE, against Germany, against England, against the world. Nor can anybody ever persuade us that any other course is right, fair, honorable and calculated to maintain the dignity, the prestige and the good name of our country among the nations of the earth.

But if Mr. Wilson's tolerance of British aggressions upon our sovereignty and our citizens' rights does not square with the high-sounding declarations of his letter to Senator Stone, what must be said of his humiliating and almost abject course of submission to Mexican outrages upon American rights and American citizens?

Take the declaration we have already quoted:

"FOR MY OWN PART, I CANNOT CONSENT TO ANY ABRIDGMENT OF THE RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS IN ANY RESPECT. THE HONOR AND SELF-RESPECT OF THE NATION IS INVOLVED."

What possible "abridgment of the rights of American citizens" has Mexico neglected to perform during these three years of watchful waiting and non-interference and practical consent to the foul outrages and cruel murders inflicted upon our fellow-citizens in Mexico?

Is there any excess of savagery and bestiality that these bandits and assassins have forgotten to inflict upon their victims? Is the honor and self-respect of the American people not involved in the murder of inoffensive American men and the outrage of helpless American women and children in Mexico, as much, at least, as it is involved in the proposition that American citizens must be free to travel on armed belligerent ships?

Or has Mr. Wilson one code of national honor and self-respect when dealing with Mexico and another code when dealing with Germany?

Take also this declaration of Mr. Wilson in his letter to Senator Stone:

"TO FORBID OUR PEOPLE TO EXERCISE THEIR RIGHTS FOR FEAR WE MIGHT BE CALLED UPON TO VINDICATE THEM WOULD BE A DEEP HUMILIATION INDEED."

We know of no more well-established and indisputable right of an American citizen than his right to remain in safety, under his government's protection, in any country in which he may be lawfully resident or into which he may travel upon his lawful errands.

And yet Mr. Wilson himself, by a proclamation addressed to consular officers, DID "forbid our citizens to exercise this right" and DID warn them to quit Mexico and to leave their homes and businesses to destruction, since their government would not protect them if they did exercise their right of remaining where they had lawfully settled or sojourned.

And within no long time Mr. Wilson has reiterated this prohibition of American rights in Mexico and reiterated his determination not to protect those rights in Mexico, by publicly announcing that it is "none of our business" what Mexicans do in Mexico, and that nobody shall interfere with their outrages and murders while he is President.

And Mr. Wilson has proved that he meant what he said by permitting the savage and hateful murder of nineteen Americans, done to death in one cruel orgy of assassination, TO GO ABSOLUTELY UNPUNISHED AND UNAVENGED.

It is indeed hard for us to see why it is right to warn American citizens to get out of Mexico and to stay at their own risk if they do stay, and why we should go to war rather than to warn American citizens to stay off armed belligerent ships, and to travel on such a foolhardy voyage at their own risk, if they choose to take such an unnecessary risk.

Also, it is hard for plain-thinking men to see why we are deeply humiliated, to the point of war, by warning American citizens to keep off hostile armed ships and to voyage in unarmed American or neutral ships, and are not humiliated to the point of forcible intervention by THE REPEATED AND CONTINUOUS ROBBERIES, OUTRAGES AND MURDERS OF AMERICANS IN MEXICO.

Is there one code of honor and self-respect on the land and another on the sea, one for submarines and ships and another for brigands and murderers, one for Mexico and one for Germany?

Mr. Wilson's full realization of the sanctity of American rights of life and liberty of action, as expressed in his letter to Senator Stone, makes all the more incomprehensible and inexplicable and inexcusable and outrageous his utter neglect to protect those rights in Mexico, his consent to the violation of all those rights in Mexico.

If Mr. Wilson did not know the situation in Mexico, or if he did not know what American rights are and what is due to national honor and self-respect, his failure to act could be understood and forgiven. But when he does so thoroughly know the situation, and when his letter to Senator Stone shows so delicate and so sensitive an appreciation of American rights and of American honor and self-respect, it is impossible to explain his conduct toward Mexico upon any ground of patriotic policy or honest conviction.

If Mr. Wilson believes what he says to Germany about the sanctity of American rights, then he cannot excuse his actions toward Mexico.

If he believes that his conduct of non-interference with Mexican outrages upon Americans is right, then his high words to Germany are inexplicable.

For the rights and the liberties and the life of an American are either sacred everywhere or nowhere, and his government is bound in honor and self-respect to defend his rights and his safety and to avenge his wrongs and injuries anywhere and at all times or nowhere and at no time.

All the sophistry in the world cannot overthrow that sound and true conclusion.
